The Rev. Charles M. Stewart

This volume is respectfully dedicated to the Rev. Charles (Chuck) M. Stewart, B.A., B.D., for a period of years Dean of Boys and for the past ten years Director of Religious Education at the College. His clear presentation of the Christian gospel, his frank approach to critical problems, his keen understanding of young people's problems and his sympathetic approach to young people themselves have left a deep and lasting impression on the lives of hundreds of boys and girls who have been through his classes in R.E.

It is with great pleasure that we dedicate this year book to a friend we shall not soon forget.

The Principal's Message

My final message to you, as you leave what I trust you have found to be the friendly halls of Stanstead College, is a very simple and homely one. If you follow it faithfully you will at least avoid hurting people, you will halt much needless and harmful gossip, and you will certainly free yourself from unnecessary regrets. My message is found in the following simple Arabian poem:

THREE GATES

(From the Arabian)

*If you are tempted to reveal
A tale to you someone has told
About another, make it pass,
Before you speak, three gates of gold.
These narrow gates: First, "Is it true?"
Then, "Is it needful?" In your mind
Give truthful answer. And the next
Is last and narrowest, "Is it kind?"
And if to reach your lips at last
It passes through these gateways three,
Then you may tell the tale, nor fear
What the result of speech may be.*

May these three gates remind you of the three arches at the front entrance of the Main Building and of the many friendships you have formed with people who have passed through them.

I cannot close this brief message without adding that there may be occasions in which you will want to speak out. In the face of evil, injustice and unfairness, righteous indignation will rise in your heart and burning words may come to your lips but here, too, let them be tempered with charity and kindness.

May you find broad and useful fields in which to exercise your talents and may life yield you happiness and deep satisfactions.

Sincerely your friend,

Errol C. Amaron.

V-E day and V-J day may have come and gone but Dan Cupid keeps on shooting his arrows with the result that through his direct hits we are losing from our staff, Miss Bindman, Miss Hamilton and Miss Wood. Others who are withdrawing are Miss Weatherup, Mrs. McGilton, Miss Heath, Mrs. Rickard, and Mr. Stewart. To all of these we extend our very best wishes. We shall look back with pleasure on our associations with them, and we shall look forward with pleasure to meeting them again.

Miss McFadzen is giving up her duties as dean of girls to take on full time work in the Conservatory.

The staff for the coming year is not yet complete but the following are among the new teachers who have so far been engaged — Dr. Ervin Cooper as director of the E.T.C.M., Mr. Gordon Jones, teacher of stringed instruments, Mrs. Wallace, Junior Boys' Matron, Miss Mary Hall, Grade 7, Mr. Jean Goulet, French Specialist, Miss Jean Morrison, Model School.

To these new teachers we extend a warm and cordial welcome.

EDITORIAL

As we consider the future which the graduating students must face we realize the tremendous job that is theirs. The post war years have revealed many problems which can be solved only with the help of every one of us. High School graduates because of their training will be leaders in their communities and their nation. A great responsibility therefore rests upon us. We must make ourselves acquainted with the problems which beset the world today, and develop insight and tolerance so that we shall be better able to deal with them. Let the one increasing purpose of all graduating students be this — to build as perfect a democracy as possible wherever we may be and to work for good will among all nations.

Valedictory

As graduates we face the dawn of a new life. Soon all of us will go forth to meet the challenge of the world of reality. We shall enter at different points. Some of us in the years to come will wend our way to fields afar. Perchance our paths may cross. Whatever be our fortune, our deeds will reflect the training we received in our youth and we will ever recall the source of that instruction.

We cannot take our departure without words of gratitude and a fond farewell to Stanstead College. She has armed us mentally, physically and spiritually to pilot a steady course through the tomorrows, be they stormy or be they calm. Against the tempest we are girded with a spiritual faith that will never forsake us. To further resist the squalls our student days have developed within us a determined courage and the will to persevere. When life is placid we shall be amply endowed with the gift of rejoicing in God's Bounty and the giving of aid to those who are less fortunate.

To you, dear Alma Mater, to the Principal, Lady Principal, Teachers, Staff, and last but not least, to those who so ably cared for us from the culinary department, we offer our heartfelt appreciation.

For the noble principles you have instilled in us, for developing the will to care for our spiritual welfare as true Christians, for teaching us tolerance and sportsmanship, and, for all the useful knowledge we have gained, we thank you.

George Soonum

INTER-CLASS DEBATING

The debating season opened on April 24th with three debates: the first between Bugbee and Grade XII, the second between Grade X and Grade XI, and the third between Grade VII and Grade VIII.

The first debate saw Grade XII triumph over Bugbee, the subject "Resolved that Provincial Lotteries should be authorized with the object of raising funds for educational and charitable purposes" being supported by the Bugbee debaters—Alice Baldwin and Bill Layton and opposed by the Grade XII debating team—Gerry Wilson and Orvis Aldrich. On the same day Grade XI, with speakers Ian MacMillan and Paisley Burns, took the affirmative of the subject "Resolved that Newfoundland should join the Confederation as a tenth province" and was defeated by Grade X, which was represented by Gordon McGilton and Roy Amaron, thus enabling Grade X to enter the final debate against Grade XII. The topic of the debate between Grade VII and Grade VIII was "Resolved that the airship is of more worldly use than the steamship". Grade VII won this debate at which its speakers, Tommy Richer and Orvald Nordby, upheld the negative side against the Grade VIII representatives Tommy Prangle and David Patrick.

The final debates were held in Pierce Hall on May 16. In the Senior Section Grade XII upheld the affirmative side of the topic "Resolved that student government is a lot of wind without rain", against Grade X. In the Junior Section, Grade IX, represented by Barbara Boyd and John Murray, upheld the affirmative of the subject "Resolved that this house agrees with the current youth agitation against the 8-cent candy bar". This debate was a victory for Grade VII, who upheld the negative side.

The John T. Hackett Memorial Cup was presented to the Grade X debaters by Mr. E. C. Amaron. A new trophy was donated by Mr. Harper for the winners in the Junior Section. This cup was presented to the Grade VII debaters by Mr. Harper.

"Look!" said the French-Canadian guide as he brought the slowly drifting canoe to an abrupt stop. Following the direction of his pointing finger I peered into the shallow water of the river and to my eager eyes appeared what he had anxiously been looking for — the imprint of a moose. On looking at this footprint I perceived that he must be of monstrous size, because his imprint was as big as a dinner plate. We also knew he was not far off, as the water around his footprint was still discoloured from the mud on the river bottom. We followed his trail up the river for two or three miles until we came to a spot where he had gone ashore.

As nightfall was speedily approaching we decided to wait until it was dark and then try a call to him, hoping he would return to satisfy his curiosity. As we sat silently on the river bank waiting for the darkness to close over the surrounding hills, we watched the sun slowly sink to its bed, leaving a few crimson ribbons on the horizon. As the sun reached its bed a golden moon rose slowly, casting a mysterious light through the haze which rose off the river. Silence fell over the woods only to be broken by an occasional splash of a trout.

The time had come when we must try to call our quarry. The guide, reaching over to a nearby birch tree and pulling off a wide strip of the bark, made a crude call in the shape of a megaphone. Bringing it to his lips he uttered a gruff cry like that of a cow. All was silent. He called again, and this time he was answered by a similar cry far off in the distance. Excitement and fear shook my body. Again we heard the deep call, but this time much closer, in fact only a matter of a few hundred yards away. Then we saw him silhouetted against the moon as he appeared around the bend in the river. He was indeed a monster. Slowly he plowed through the shallow water, the hills echoing his every step. Then he stopped and stood on a little island in the middle of the river. "Now!" said the guide, "Shoot!" Slowly I raised my powerful rifle to my shoulder, and, taking careful aim, fired. The silence of the forest was shattered by the roar of the gun. The moose seemed to quiver for a moment and then fell with a mighty splash, into the river.

The woods once more regained their tranquillity. The hunt was over, and we had succeeded in killing the King of the forest.

OBIIT

1st Prize Senior Poetry.

The blood-chilled, threatening grey of clouds of war,

*Edged by a lustful, grasping hate, and red
With the blood of thousands who, in dying, left
Their names engraved for eternity
On the living roll-call of the dead,
Shaded the heart of one who, with the rest
Of heroes who before him scorn'd to die,
Went bravely forth to meet a crushing foe,—
Determined "aut vincere aut mori."*

*His sum of Mortal Grievs shall rise no more,
His irksome troubles of this world shall flee;
He dwells in peace, in halls of chrysolite;
He lives supreme — Lord of Eternity.*

CANADA

2nd Prize Senior Poetry.

*Oh, wondrous land, the beauty of her realm
Could ne'er be made, but by the hand of God;
Her rolling plains, her fertile valleys, all
Are, even by great men, most humbly trod.*

*The stately mounts, with caps of silver snow,
Reflect a glory unsurpassed by hands;
Her mighty rivers, rushing to the sea,
Like serpents twist their ways along the sands.*

*This land of plenty all man's wants supplies,
Ta tyranny's cruel fist she'll never cower,
So lift your loyal hearts in glorious praise,
For high this land of Canada will tower.*

BEAUTIFUL WATERS

1st Prize Junior Prose.

Long ago some wandering red-man came upon a beautiful lake nestling in among steep mountains and low rolling forests. This lake was passed by Rogers' Rangers on their way home from the burning of the Indian village of St. Francis. It must be stated, however, that they held a very poor opinion of the district, for these were unable to find food anywhere. Nicholas Austin was probably the first white man to see this lake, called "Beautiful Waters" by the Indians. In his little birch canoe he paddled down the lake and finally established his homestead on a high rock cliff jutting out into the water. This cliff has been appropriately named Gibraltar Point.

Gradually the United Empire Loyalists began to drift in from the United States. The Indian tribes slowly disappeared, leaving behind them such names as Owl's Head, Eagle Cliff, and Wigwam Point.

Before long little settlements grew up along the shores and all manner of boats and ferries appeared. The first ferries were propelled by water-wheels which, in turn, were revolved by a horse. The main stage-coach line between the United States border and Montreal crossed the lake. Hence began the growth of prosperous villages with large hotels, where passengers could rest before the journey across the lake by ferry.

After this main route was changed, the communities grew smaller but were still the centres for outlying farm districts.

This lake still retains its picturesque beauty, and many are the exclamations of wonder as one passes from one beautiful spot to another. One cannot go far along the shore without seeing the homes of pleasure-seekers who leave the worries and cares of the city for the peace and tranquillity of beautiful Lake Memphremagog.

MY HOME TOWN

2nd Prize Junior Poetry.

*In a little town called Rawdon,
Up in the Northern hills,
That's noted for its mountains
And its many sparkling rills,*

*We see the people quite content
With a peaceful farming life;
To quarrel is not their intent
And there's no sound of strife.*

*There's skiing in the winter,
Swimming in the spring,
And there's nought can touch the shooting
When the ducks are on the wing.*

*Days come and then they go
While things endure as ever,
But Rawdon's beauty stays just so
With peace as our endeavour.*

A BOOK I HAVE READ

2nd Prize Senior Prose.

Of the many books I have read I enjoy biographies the best. Any such books always hold a lot of interest for me, and so I was delighted when I managed to obtain a copy of the excellent biography of Honoré de Balzac by Stephen Zweig. This new biography of Mr. Zweig was left unfinished, but after his death his friend Richard Friedental was able to publish for him an excellent manuscript which would probably have pleased the author as well as it has pleased its many satisfied readers.

Mr. Zweig worked on his manuscript for ten years. He seemed to have been obsessed by Balzac. He was fascinated by his extraordinary character, his unique methods of work, his many fabulous follies and extravagances, and his superhuman powers. The book is definitely the story of the man and not of the many books he wrote.

And what a man! Balzac was ugly, gross, and from his childhood days he remained a bundle of sensitive nerves. This was the result of a brutal education to which he was condemned by his narrow bourgeois family, who seemed to have had very little love for him. They thought exclusively in terms of money, and money must have been imprinted on his brain. He made more and spent more than any other writer in his time. Throughout his youth he was desperately poor. It was this urge to escape from the mean bourgeois life of his family that made him strive so hard to become a successful writer. He began his writing career as a poet and a playwright but he had no ability in either direction. It took him many years to achieve fame and fortune as a writer, but he never lost hope. Like many other men of genius he had great confidence in himself and was determined to have success wherever he could get it. But Fate, which had been so cruel to Balzac, played her last ironical joke on him. He had worked hard all his life to acquire wealth and to marry the woman he loved. When these things were finally granted him he had so exhausted himself in trying to obtain them he could not enjoy them. He became a hopeless cripple and died soon afterward.

I greatly enjoyed having the privilege of reading the life of his fabulous character, Honoré de Balzac, I think all readers will agree that this biography is in no sense merely a collection of astonishing anecdotes. It is an ordered and impressive study of a genius.

TRINIDAD, LAND OF THE HUMMING BIRD

2nd Prize Junior Prose.

Off the coast of British Guiana, in the blue Caribbean Sea, lies Trinidad, one of the most beautiful and gorgeous West India Islands.

In almost every part of this charming island we see signs of a busy, prosperous life.

Smiling cocoa estates greet the eye everywhere; the sugar cane, with its graceful plume-like flowers and long bladed leaves, waves gaily to the soft breeze.

Amid the vast fields on which this valuable plant is cultivated, we see active mills and grand usines puffing pretty smoke curls; they are making from this cane the nice crystal sugar we all like so very much.

The majestic coco-palms, whose slender trunks are richly crowned with feather branches, are heavily laden with the sweet-watered nuts.

The tropical flowers, especially the rare and delicate orchids and the blazing immortelles, give the island an enchanting atmosphere.

Roads lead us in all directions, and railways connect our chief towns and villages with the capital. Motor-cars, trucks, taxi-cabs, motor buses, and other vehicles constantly ply throughout the land.

Although we have no gold mines to tempt the fortune-seekers, still we see people from all parts of the world streaming to the "Land of the Humming Bird."

Her ports are closed against none; she is ever ready to give a hearty welcome to all. The laws are respected and social grades are kept within healthy bounds and, what is best and most to be prized as the island's greatest blessing, is the harmony which prevails among all classes.

Truly Trinidad is a land of peace, contentment, and happiness.

AT EVENTIDE

When the long and weary day is done
And the sun with radiant splendour gone,
When twilight its grey mantle spreads
Over the earth bowed with a tired head,
At eventide,

When through the soft and silent sky
The swallows their merry pursuit fly,
And nightingales with charming harmony
Sing, in the evening, a restful melody,
At eventide,

NATURE'S BEAUTY

1st prize Junior Poetry.

*With hand so gentle, loving, kind,
She rustles every leaf,
Puts perfume in the roses,
And makes the grass so green
To help the sick and sad of heart
Enjoy a pleasant scene.*

*When winter comes with cold, white hand,
She puts them all to sleep,
To send them off to dreamland,
While with hands of gentle grace,
She covers up each bush and shrub
With pretty bits of lace.
And trees give out their splendour,
With pure white gleaming snow
To show how much they love her,
Their mother of the snow.*

*When spring is here from all the earth
She lifts the coverlet.
Then flowers lift up their wee small heads
Above the melting snow:
The world is full of music
And everything's aglow.*

*When summer comes with all its charm
Of flowers and birds and bees,
And all the beauty of our doors
And in among the trees,
The whole world is a wondrous place,
With treasures such as these.*

*In fall with autumn tints
She prints up all the leaves,
And sets the trees aflutter
With a gentle, cooling breeze.
For reasons such as these,
She reigns along the beauty Queen.*

When night is near and day is dying,
And a last ray of light is vainly trying
To stop or delay the all-encircling gloom
And so prevent the day's approaching doom,
At eventide,

When time has come for me to rest,
And Melancholy shares my lonely nest,
Then I am sad and pray Above
That I might dream of thee, my love,
At eventide.

"PRIDE'S FANCY"

by Thomas H. Raddall

If anyone would like to read a typically Canadian novel by a Canadian author, I suggest that he read a book which I have recently read and enjoyed.

The name of the book is "Pride's Fancy", and it was written by Thomas H. Raddall, who was born and brought up in Nova Scotia. The story itself concerns the early pioneers who settled in Nova Scotia and their trade struggle with the natives of the Island of Hispaniola (Haiti).

The hero, Nathan Cain, was brought up by the Pride household after his parents died. The Prides, however, were penny-pinchers and the only wealthy family in that particular section of Nova Scotia. This was probably the reason for the town's unanimous hatred of that family "in league with the devil."

Nathan, a young man of twenty or so, was just commencing an adventurous sea career when the natives of Haiti rebelled, massacring the plantation owners, and gaining a temporary freedom. Thus interrupted, our hero was forced to wait until his foster-uncle decided to build a warship to take French, Spanish, and Portuguese prizes. Nathan persuaded Mr. Pride to let him command the sleek sailing vessel, and he was given to understand that, upon his return, he was to inherit and manage the Pride's business and estate as well as to marry the very beautiful Miss Pride.

Nathan's adventures aboard the good ship "Pride's Fancy" are extremely interesting to that reader who revels in gripping excitement of sword-fights, captures, and breath-taking courage.

While on this voyage, Nathan lands on the island of Haiti, and there he and part of his crew are taken prisoner by the ruling natives. The little band, having been set at liberty, return to their ship only to have it blown up under their feet.

At this point in the story, Nathan realizes that he is in love with a young French girl, whom he had rescued from the natives of Haiti at the time that the story begins. He, his crew, and his loved-one make their way back to Canada aboard an enemy ship which they had preciously captured. Nathan did not return to Nova Scotia, but settled in Quebec instead, having given up his inheritance.

Many readers who take my advice and read this book will undoubtedly end up reading, "Roger Sudden", "The Pied Piper of Dipper Creek", and "His Majesty's Yankees", three more wonderful books written by Thomas H. Raddall dealing with life in the Maritime Provinces of Canada.

LOOKING FORWARD TO LIFE

I hear someone say that life is uninteresting. Somebody else remarks that it is a mere game of chance and not worthwhile. How many more people have similar opinions?

Surely anyone who looks on the beauty that surrounds us every day and feels that life is dull must have his eyes shut. Think of the glory of nature — trees, flowers, rivers, hills, and oceans; think of man-made triumphs — pyramids, skyscrapers, ocean-liners, bridges, and churches; think of the human body and the human mind. Each of these things is marvelously beautiful and shows the intrinsic order that abounds everywhere.

All of life, with its multiplicity of forms, is before the graduating student. What a challenge it is! There is the whole world for a trysting ground. Shall we gain the field or lose it? Shall we make use of the field when it is conquered?

The foundation for a life-time has been laid. Our parents and teachers have done their utmost to prepare us. Will the life-time be worthwhile?

It can be, but it all depends on the individual.

"If you can fill the unforgiving minute.

With sixty seconds worth of distance run.

Yours is the world and all that there is in it."

As I look before me now I feel that life is ecstatically wonderful. I would not give it up at any price. No matter what happens I do not believe that I would ever want to forego one part of it. There is so much to do and so much to see that it seems as though one lifetime is not enough.

REMINISCING

As I sit here at my desk, gazing out of the window, my mind wanders. I cannot concentrate on my books tonight — it is too nice. I look out on the tree-clad hillsides. The sun is sinking slowly down, and birds are preparing to nest. I muse over old times, over things that have happened on other nights, just like this.

I remember the night, two years back, when Dad and I were out bass-fishing. It was the year he got back from overseas, and it was mighty good to be together again, doing the things we both loved.

We had got up early that morning and made our preparations; we sorted out the best looking baits for the weather, tested the lines, oiled the reels, and fixed the rods. The bass were likely to be fresh and saucy, as the season was just open. It was our first time out, and we had looked forward to it with glorious anticipation.

We took the car out and started off for the lake. It was smallmouth we were after, and we knew where to get them. We were going to Lake Battler. We called it that because in it was the biggest bass we had ever seen, and after a few tussles with him Dad and I named him "Old Battler". Twice he had broken six-pound test lines, each time, just as we thought we had him. We got there, and unloaded the equipment and pushed off in the Leaker, an old tub which had seen better days.

The fishing for a while was uneventful, and was confined to catching a few small ones, and experimenting with bait.

Then it happened! Dad had just flipped out a rubber mouse and started the retrieve when "Old Battler" struck. It was a whack like the kick of a twelve-gauge. I let out a yell and Dad settled down for a fight.

First the fish came to the top and let us have a look at him, leaping out of the water in marvelous lunges. Dad took to jerking the line while he was in the air. He sulked for a second and then with the whirrrrrrrr of the reel, he stripped out line and headed for the bottom. Dad put his thumb on the line to slow him down and the blood spurted. We let him go to the bottom and the weeds started to float. Dad tried to reel in but it was just as if he'd hooked a log. Suddenly the line started to cut to the boat.

I tell you I had to really lay to my oars to keep him out from underneath the boat. After about a half an hour of plunging and bucking, he threw up the sponge.

Dad reeled him to the top and I netted him. We examined him as he lay gasping in the water. He weighed all of seven pounds and was scarred from other hooks. As he lay there thinking his time had come, Dad and I looked at each other, and then — dumped him into the lake.

Somehow, we could not keep and kill that fish; he was not just another fish, he was a gallant old warrior, who had earned his freedom. We never hooked "Old Battler" again, and I like to think of him still in that lake, living out the long life so richly deserved.

Well, I have work to do, and I must concentrate, though my mind still lingers over that memorable May day.

Dear Friends,

This is just a few words to express my happiness in being able to contact once again all the swell guys and gals that I have met during the course of my studies here at Stanstead College, and to say thanks for all the good times we have had together. It is "To All Good Fellows Like You" that I write this, wishing you the best of luck wherever you may be.

*As I roam here and there, ere my journeying end,
May I always find friends just as true,
May Dame Fortune in kindness my daily path bend
To a bunch of good fellows like you.*

*In this life I have found that we get what we give;
We are done to, forsooth, as we do;
So my prayer is that I may live while I live
With a bunch of good fellows like you.*

There's a glint in your eye, there's a clasp in your hand,

*There's a tone in your voice always new;
I think Paradise must be some sort of land
With a bunch of good fellows like you.*

Here's a pledge to your health, to your joy, your success,

*For the folk of your kind are too few;
There is something to hearten, to gladden, and bless
In a bunch of good fellows like you.*

*So I pledge you again, and can only say this—
And it springs from a sentiment true—
I shall always regret every hour I must miss
From a bunch of good fellows like you.*

Yours sincerely,

MY TRIP UP THE SAGUENAY

My trip up the Saguenay River started at Montreal, where we boarded a ship that would take us down the St. Lawrence and up the Saguenay, and back again.

The voyage began at seven o'clock on Saturday night, and our first main stop was Quebec City the next morning. The city looked beautiful and formidable from the boat, with the rising sun casting its rays on the imposing and architecturally beautiful Chateau Frontenac. Without ever knowing the history of Quebec one can easily feel that there are many interesting stories and famous people and incidents connected with its past. The narrow, cobbled streets and old stone buildings reflect their historic past.

After a few hours' stop at Quebec, we continued our voyage down the St. Lawrence. There were a few stops that were of little interest until we got to Murray Bay. Here we took the old and renowned "Caleche" up the long, winding, and steep hill to the Manoir Richelieu with its beautiful gardens and lawns and swimming pool. It looked like a beautiful castle in Old France with its ivy-covered stone walls and old cannons sitting majestically on its lawned terraces, pointing their noses toward the river.

Next came Tadoussac. This small village and its people reflected great poverty although the large Hotel Tadoussac situated on the shore raised one's first impression of the village.

Of course the most beautiful part of the trip was the Saguenay River. The river is very narrow, with high, mountainous banks. It gave one an eerie and mysterious feeling, with its deep, dark, and cold waters beneath, and high, awe-inspiring cliffs and mountains on each side. Cape Trinity, with its statue of Marie was the most interesting and most beautiful view in the whole trip.

Our last stop was Bagotville where we stayed overnight. The next morning we started on our journey back to Montreal.

The voyage was one of great interest and beauty, and will remain forever in my mind as a reminder and example of the kind of country in which we live.

THE YOUTH OF TO-DAY

A youth, who is unknown to fame or fortune,
Stands on the doorstep of life:
What is his fate? What is his future
In this time of worldly strife?

The broken ways in the life of man
His task is to repair and mend.
The road with dangers is beset,
Assist him to the end.

One thinks "Is he too young for this?
Mind clear and nerves all set?"
The task is long, and time is short,
And futile is regret.

Undaunted by man's previous failures,
Despair is out of sight.
This youth will fight the uphill battle,
And stand upon the height.

ICE FISHING

Ice fishing is profitable if you want to sell your fish. There are different ways and kinds of ice fishing. For instance you can fish on a lake or river. Many people have cabins on a lake or river from which they move from one place to another finding where the fish are feeding. The fish which you catch are of several kinds. In the lake live salmon, perch, white-perch, pickerel, and smelt. On the river you catch trout and mullet.

The vital part of the ice fisherman's equipment is the tip-up, that curious little gadget which automatically hoists a little flag when a fish bites. The simplest is a stick attached to a crosspiece which lies over the hole in the ice. The flag is on the long end of the stick and when the fish bites he pulls the the hinge braced into the wooden base. There is short-end down, raising the flag.

A better way is to use an old umbrella rib, with a sliding weight on one end of the rib and a flag on the other. When a fish bites, the weights slide down and the flag goes up. Some tip-ups are equipped with a spring device that pops and whips the flag up smartly when a fish bites. Many of them have reels which allow the fish to take out line and this gives the fisherman a better chance to land him.

The best bait for pickerel is a bright lively, shiner minnow about three inches long. Smaller minnows or worms are good for catching perch, smelt trout and white perch.

The best time of the year for ice fishing is in January or February. You take your car and load up for the expedition of ice fishing. You may have a cabin from which you can fish or you may have to fish in the open, which is not very comfortable, unless you are dressed warmly and are used to the cold. Luck may be with you once but not forever.

A DIFFERENT SORT OF MUSEUM

Recently I enjoyed a tour through the wax-work Museum in Montreal. This particular museum contains mostly religious scenes and figures. All the figures in this collection were made by one man in only four years. We were told that no two were alike. The coloring and moulding of the figures was perfect in every detail. One could imagine some of them just ready to speak.

After paying a small fee, a guide led us down a short flight of stairs. We found ourselves in a narrow winding tunnel which appeared to be hewn out of solid rock. Here and there were lights but the effect was that of darkness. It was quite easy to imagine yourself being led down into the catacombs under the city of Rome for such was our imaginary destination. Presently we came to little niches in the wall where were depicted typical scenes in the catacombs at the time when Christians were being persecuted in Rome. We saw groups of Christians gathered for a wedding, a baptism, a funeral, or just a simple service of worship.

One scene showed the funeral of a young Christian girl. The dead were placed in what appeared to be cupboards or berths in the sides of the tunnel. On the outside of these tombs were pictures of Old Testament characters and famous religious scenes. For example one painting showed Jonah's being swallowed by the whale and the returning to life.

The last scene in this group showed Christians being thrown to the lions in the Roman amphitheatre. In the foreground a young woman was being torn limb from limb by one of the wild beasts. We could even see the expression of intense pain on her face. Then we went up a flight of steps and emerged into brighter light. Needless to say it was a relief for one could not help getting a "creepy" feeling from imagining scenes such as these, actually occurring.

Next we saw a replica of the stable at Bethlehem. Mary sat holding the Baby Jesus with Joseph standing near. The Three Wise Men were approaching with their gifts. In the background we could see the cattle in their stalls, the little donkey which had brought Mary and Joseph to Bethlehem, and the camels of the Wise Men.

Jacques Cartier's first landing in the New World was also depicted. We could see the French explorer with his sailors and a missionary being met by a group of Indians. In the background were the French ships, exact in detail.

Then we passed on to other Canadian historical scenes showing Indian savages and the noble defense of their homes by French women.

In one scene our attention was attracted by the figure of a squirrel, sitting there on the branch of a tree. It seemed just ready to scamper away.

More modern scenes followed. First there was the figure of a well known Catholic priest. This figure was the only one in the collection which had been made from real life. The others were done from pictures. He sat with one hand resting on a table and was the most real-looking of all the figures. Then we saw figures of King George VI, General Montgomery, and General Eisenhower.

The final scene showed Pope Pius XI in full ceremonial garb with the late Cardinal Villeneuve and another member of the College of Cardinals. In the background were figures of the armed guards who accompany the Pope. This scene was said to be the most valuable in the collection and was surrounded by an almost invisible glass wall.

We were told that the clothes worn by the figures in the Catacombs of Rome were exact copies of what people did wear at that time. The garments of the Wise Men had been imported from some eastern country. The clothes worn by the figure of Pope Pius XI were valued at two thousand dollars.

Such collections as these are interesting as well as of educational value and should be made better known.

MY MENTALITY

*I sit here brooding,
My mind is a blank,
I've got my report—
What a terrible rank!
My mind is a muddle,
It's all in a stew,
I really can't absorb
More knowledge that's new.
I don't know my French,
I don't know my English,
Physics from Chemistry
I just can't distinguish.
I don't know my History,
My Maths are bad,
The state of my brain
It really is sad.
Though everything's mixed,
Mixed in a mass,
It must be untangled,
Cause I've got to pass.*

THE ANGLERS

One spring while the lake was still frozen, I set out fishing lines to catch pike through holes chopped in the ice. As bait I used roaches and a few small fish. At first I caught quite a number of pike but then one day when I came to examine the hooks I found that several of them had been pulled up and that the bait was gone. My first thought was that probably some small boys had been around. I hid on the shore of the lake, intending to watch for the youngsters and give them a scolding.

To my immense surprise my uninvited guests proved to be two crows. Fascinated, I watched them at their marauding, hardly believing my eyes. First one crow would take my line in his beak and pull it up a bit. He'd back up several steps across the ice, tugging lustily and then he'd plant a foot on the line to keep it from sliding down again.

The other crow, going to the edge of the ice hole, would take his turn at hauling up a length of line and then stepping on it. Haul and make fast, haul and make fast, the two crows kept up their team work until my hook and bait were upon the surface and then they helped themselves to a juicy dinner.

THE SCHOOL

I think that no matter what school or college one attends — whether he is an old student there or whether he is a newcomer — in the end he becomes attached to it and wants to support it and help it in any way that he can. He may complain about things that he does not like; he may say repeatedly that he would like to give it up, but in his heart he loves it and holds in awe the honour and renown which it has gained in the past years.

A student can spend hours thinking and wondering about the people who have gone before him. He looks at the initials carved in his desk and wonders what the owner of them was like, what he did while he was at school, where he is now. Sometimes he finds a name that he recognizes, a name that he has been told about time and again, because its owner brought the school glory in the field of sports when he was the star hockey player, or captain of the rugby team. He looks at the aged, tattered year books and sees pictures of those who passed through the school before him, and who are now on their own. He looks at the honour roll, with the names on it of those who fought for their country and of those who died for it; he looks at the lists of winners of debates and scholarships and trophies. And in the end he sincerely hopes that, he, like the others before him, can leave some memory of himself behind which will add to the glory of the school.

MIST

Have you ever seen the mist
When it creeps into the towns
And gathers each wandering wisp
As it passes o'er the downs?
To each small blade of grass
It gives its silvery balls,
And then it quietly will pass
To where the robin calls.
And here it rises high
To shroud the tallest branch,
Then softly, slowly floating by
It stills the leaves that dance.
The flowers lift up their heads
To catch each tiny drop,
And swaying in their beds
They sigh for it to stop.
But on and on it goes,
Though leaving in its wake
A sparkling world that shows
The change the mist can make.

THE AGE OF ELECTRONS

The electron, the smallest thing yet known to nature, has built a four-billion industry within the last few years. Electrons so small that it takes billions of billions of them to weigh only an ounce are all about us. You hear them snap when you comb your hair or stroke a cat.

Not many years ago, no one knew what caused this common phenomenon until Edison accidentally discovered the vacuum tube and uses for it. And to-day electrons have been harnessed to do everything from counting sticks of chewing gum to shooting down airplanes.

Many of these devices such as the light weight electronic blanket to keep you cool in the summer and warm in the winter, a new hearing aid weighing only six ounces, and a new washer that washes and dries both dishes and clothes are already on the market. New attachments for stoves can cook food, even in dainty chinaware, in about two-thirds the ordinary time. Electronic heating and cooling systems will be available for homes and offices, while color television will be in many homes in the near future. In industry today there are almost three hundred uses for electronic devices.

So we see that this is now an electronic age and not a promise of tomorrow, but rather an accomplishment of today.

PEACEFUL NIGHT

*As the moon rose softly over the mountain
Its light reflected on the glassy sea beneath,
And all was still.
It seemed as if one were living in an enchanted atmosphere;
The water lapped gently on the shore,
And every now and then
The silence was broken by the hooting of the night birds;
The skies were clear and cloudless,
And the wind
Was like the music of a pipe passing through the trees;
The scent of tropical flowers drifted toward us,
Smelling like some rare and exotic perfume;
The feeling of peacefulness lay everywhere,
As if one were in a pleasant dream.*

A CHRISTIAN SERVICE CONFERENCE

On January third and fourth, a conference was held in Montreal under the joint auspices of the Young Peoples' Union of the Montreal and Ottawa Conferences, and the Montreal United Theological College. This conference was held in hopes of getting more young people interested in Church Work. Thirty-nine young people attended, including six from Stanstead College.

The conference opened on Friday evening in Divinity Hall, with the registration, and words of welcome by the Rev. G. Connolly, chairman of the committee in charge of the conference. We then heard three very interesting addresses. Professor Gilmour, from Queen's University, spoke on "The need for Ministers". He said that the average age of ministers was dangerously high, because there had not been sufficient young ministers. Mrs. Hutchinson, Principal of the United Church Training School, spoke on the outstanding opportunities for service by women in the church. She could place, she said, five times the number of graduates available from the training school. Lastly, Mrs. Collins, who is home on furlough from Angola, Portuguese West Africa Mission field, spoke to us on "Overseas Opportunities". She told a vivid story of the achievements by missionaries in Africa, and cited the urgent need for more highly trained workers.

On Saturday morning we visited The Church of All Nations and the Hungarian Church, where we were told about the work of those churches. In the afternoon we met again at Divinity Hall and went to different interest groups where we found out more about the subjects that we were interested in. There was a missionary group under Dr. Stewart Allan, a ministry group under Dr. R. B. Y. Scott, and a group for people interested in Women Workers and Christian Education under Mrs. Hutchison and Miss Gardner. Later we visited St. Columbia House where we were served tea. That night we had a closing banquet at Erskine and American Church. We had a sing-song and then words of welcome by Dr. Cragg. Professor Gilmour gave the address, and then the Right Rev. T. W. Jones, Moderator of the United Church of Canada, took part in the closing devotions.

This conference was a great benefit to everyone who attended. We not only had a good time but we also learned about the great opportunities that there are for young people in Church Work.

"7.15"

*"Get up, you there!" says MacDuff with a yell,
 "It's a quarter past seven and there goes the bell!"*

*And all that are wakened and pulled out of bed
 Think—"How nice he'd look without any head."*

*Now dear Mr. Stanton, with manner so good,
 Knocks on the door, (or Grant's head, they're both wood):*

*"Wake up, little children, the sun's shining bright!"
 But all we can see is a sky black as night.*

*When on Friday mornings we wish to sleep in,
 Mr. Kennedy knocks with all vigor and vim;
 On dark dreary morns, when we all feel so dead,
 Mr. Gordon comes 'round, and sticks in his head.*

*We jump when we hear Hackett's tread on the floor,
 But go back to bed when he's passed by the door;
 When Abbott comes in, we wake up in dread;
 I wish to high heavens we could all stay in bed!*

HUNTING WITH A CAMERA

So you're a hunter? You like to get out in the woods with your gun and see what game you can bring in? You like the smell of the clean fresh air and the excitement which takes hold of you as the first bird of the season flushes? Sure you like it. Who doesn't? But haven't you often thought as you leveled the gun, what a pretty picture that quail would make in the bright sunlight, or how beautiful that deer was as he raced across the open field? Or perhaps you've run across a group of fawns grazing in some woodland meadow.

Hunting with a camera is an interesting and fascinating hobby. All that is required is a camera. The smaller types are best since they are more compact and quicker to get into action. The camera may be either cheap or expensive, depending on how much you wish to invest, but the most important thing is that it takes good, clear, sharp pictures. Of course, the more expensive varieties will be equipped with special focusing devices, telescopic lenses, etc.

When you go into the woods, you must carry the camera ready focussed and ready for use. A partridge goes up mighty fast and you have to be quick to get in your "shot" before he is too far off. Also you must be very patient to get near enough to anything like a deer or a fox to photograph him. Of course with telescopic lenses it is much easier.

This type of photography can be profitable, too. Magazines and newspapers will pay well for good pictures of wild life.

BLIND SOLDIER

With his easel and his paints he strolled
 the country side.
 This clever boy of just eighteen was both his parents' pride.
 His future looked so bright, and his heart
 was filled with dreams,
 But now they all are ended and life's empty, so it seems.

Then came the war across the sea;
 Men went to fight for liberty,
 He laid his paints aside one day,
 And went to fight so far away.

He longed for the day when he'd return, to paint again once more,
 To wander through the country, the way he did before,
 And he won a lot of medals; he was gallant
 in the fight,
 But while there across the sea, the soldier lost his sight.

He's home again where he longed to be,
 But what is home if one can't see?
 If one only smells the rose of June,
 And cannot see the stars and moon?

The piano now is silent, deserted by the boy,
 The boy who played for hours, whose heart was filled with joy.
 His easel's in the attic; it's lonely, so it seems;
 The house that once knew gladness, now knows of vanished dreams.

Bugbee Business College

APPRECIATIONS

The students of Bugbee regret to learn that Rev. C. M. Stewart who teaches R. E. and Miss Freda Bindman who conducts the classes in French are severing their connections with the college at the close of this school year. However, we rejoice to know that Mr. Stewart is moving to a larger field of labour in Vancouver and that Miss Bindman is about to assume the responsibilities that naturally follow on being the recipient of a diamond. We heartily congratulate both teachers and wish them God's blessing.

For over fifty years Bugbee Commercial College has been sending out annually a good number of students to supply the demand for help, in business offices. This was made possible by the generous donation of Dr. A. G. Bugbee in the year 1894, when he donated the present building plus a substantial endowment. Many of the graduates have made a decided success of their business career. Measured in worldly goods we could show quite an imposing list, many of them millionaires. What is still better those are all men of outstanding character who are real benefactors to their fellowmen.

This year's class of over forty students is producing a good number of desirable graduates. Already about half a dozen have been placed in lucrative positions. Students from Grades VIII and IX, who take Bookkeeping, add much to the responsibilities of the teachers who already carry a heavy load, but the extra time required is well invested. Another interesting feature of the work is the large number of Academy students who take Typing. This year there were considerably over one hundred students registered for typing alone, counting all classes.

The Bugbee management would appreciate hearing occasionally from more of their graduates. We are interested in the welfare of our Alumni and could often be of assistance to them.

B. B. C. CLASS PROPHECY, 1947.

Let me take you without regard for time or space to Montreal the leading metropolis of the North American continent in the year of Our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Seventy.

It is evening, we find ourselves in the reception salon of the 150-storey "Hotel Utopia". There is an exciting hum of conversation among the hotel's guests. All are anticipating the arrival of some distinguished personages. Tonight the "Utopia" is giving a "Success Banquet" for the "Bugbee Business College of '47." This group recently became world famous when research showed all its members have attained what many seek in life, namely, "Success".

A voice is coming over the hotel address system. It belongs to Art Letovsky — the fabulous Art Letovsky, Walter Winchell of this era, and, also a member of the selects who are to dine royally tonight. What say we join Art who so generously consented to announce the arrivals to a waiting universe? We too, will soon learn more of this truly great "Class of '47".

"Hello everybody! — big nite here in our fair city. It's "Success Banquet Night" for that much-talked-of group, the B.B.C. Class of '47, of which I have the good fortune to be a member. Hang on folks! The celebrities are beginning to arrive — Coming up the steps is — it can't be — yes it is, Senator Bill Layton — trust him to be on the spot, Bill is Canada's No. 1 representative to the United Nations Organization. The spring session of the U.N.O. adjourned this morning in Moscow — Entering the hall now is a dusky beauty — Derrice Steele owner of the Chez Trinidad Clubs known for the top notch entertainment. With Derrice are two very popular culinary artists whose tasty dishes are world famous, Rachael Aboud and Edna Clarke. If you haven't yet become acquainted with their recipes drop in at "Chez Trinidad" — there's one in every city — and give yourself a treat. — A charming couple approaches now — it's the Ellis Barthers. All of you know Mr. Barter as the Commissioner of the R.C.M.P. and his wife, one time Jean Rowe, Universal Pictures top feminine star. — What's that blonde dazzle I see? — Ah yes! Ann Benbow who runs the renowned Future Fashion and Model syndicate. Tonight to our delight, she is modelling one of her late creations. People always said Ann would go places! — Here comes the head of another huge company, Lois Bliss, the brains behind the Giant Steel Corporation successors to Canada Steel Co. of long ago. — And now for variety we have a man — no, two men — they're Paul Pelchat, holder of the World's Heavyweight Boxing crown since 1969, and Bob Chaddock, Paul's familiar and capable manager. Bob is also president and owner of the 25th Century Arena Co. who control the auditoriums of the world. — A dashing feminine guest now — the Great Georgina Streeter recently returned from a World Tour. — Georgina of the "Twinkling Toes" and the "Silhouette" dances. It is said she has consented to perform for our happy gathering this eve. — There is a joyous smiling face with sparkling eyes! She's Gwen Storer who owns the celebrated Zeneith Racing Stables that have turned out the winners for both

Derbys for some years now. This is just her hobby; in civil life Gwen is the Hub of the U.N.O. Secretariat. Next we have a pleasant little lady, by the name of Mary Kirby who has become a senior executive in the Office of the Prime Minister, which is one of the top rungs on the "Ladder of Success". — Now we're looking at a tall sleek individual, Robert Walters, cartoonist extraordinary and creator of America's favourite comic couple the "Tinkles". Bob also holds controlling stock in the Toronto Star Weekly which is now published in fifteen tongues. Five appealing beauties meet my eye! — is there a sixth? worse luck, it's a man — but a truly unique gent — Bill Wadleigh successful producer-playwright. The ladies are the five top names on to-day's stage and are cast together in Bill's latest hit "Isabella" which will go on European tour in December. This wealth of talent consists of Marjorie Bostwick, Irene Bell, Gert Hodge, Cécile Therrien and Doreen Russel. These outstanding gals are also Bill's business partners. Their company, "Quality Productions" has a finger in every known theatrical pie. — Just coming in are the eminent team Bert Boudreau and Marcel Laurent, owners of the fifty storey "Club La Patrie" on downtown St. Catherine Street. Not much chance of a dull evening there — fifty floors of the first class entertainment — A vision! — handsome is not an adequate word the Charles Boyer of our time none other than Rolland Charbonneau, Warner Brothers great male star. They say he collects the highest salary in Screendom. — Once again we're treated to some feminine charm — "The Carmichael Twins" — N.B.C.'s foremost singing pair. You may recall the late Kate Smith in our tw'ns we have the voices of two Kate Smith's! — Here's my old friend Maurice Perkins, chairman of the International Civil Air and Stratospheric Aviation whose headquarters is in the C.N.R. Building on Dorchester Street. The current session is dealing with the problem of rocket ship traffic control in the Mars area. — A noted trio has now appeared on the scene — Garth Dean, Joe Bonnette, and Bill Pope, who formed the "We-Can-Build-Anything Co." fifteen years ago and have since erected all projects worthy of mention. Their greatest engineering feat, which has yet to be equalled, was the completion of the St. Lawrence River Seaway in 1956, only a few year after the company was formed. This is a dynamic partnership you may be sure! — Look! A picture, isn't she? Yes folks, attractive Rena Bowen, from down Boston way, socially the leading light in that blue-blooded city and a very charming hostess at that! — Canada's "Lumber King" is in our midst now — the head of the "Never-Brake Toothpicks Incorporated". Byron Lusk. By's company holds three-fifths of the world's toothpick contracts. Who would have dreamt such a market was worth cornering? — Two enterprising ladies are making their way to the banquet hall now, they're Joyce Woodard and Jean Wharry from one of Canada's favourite playgrounds, the Eastern Townships. The pair owns the "Century Hotels" — one hundred resorts scattered throughout the scenic area. Business has been booming for them since the Olympic Games came to the Townships in 1952. — Approaching now is the immaculately dressed Peter Thompson, gentleman-diplomat and our Nation's Ambassador of Goodwill to Britain. Peter was mainly responsible for Canada's being granted an absolutely free hand in self government and global politics and as a result we are now a thousand times greater as well as a stauncher member of the British Empire. Quite a stir is being created among our spectators by the arrival of Alice Baldwin who won fame designing and creating dream homes which are the ultimate in domestic housing. Alice tours consistently thus bringing all the people in touch with the last word in dwellings. A "Baldwin" home is within the reach of the average income. A series of female sighs — no wonder, as Kenneth (Joe) Jenkins enters. President of "Communications of the Universe" Joe brought the dial television phone into every home. Though the move was a loss to the company at the time, it has since been replaced by the resulting increase in steady revenue. This immense firm also placed the first radio telephone on the planet Venus. — There is another rustle amidst the bystanders at the appearance of Charles Keeler, ace art critic and dealer in illustrious paintings by the "Masters". Added to this, Charles follows agricultural science at his thousand experimental stations south of Montreal. The last guest on our list comes into view now. She's Rita Ouellette the alluring hostess of the Chateau Laurier which has remained popular despite the erratic trends of modern times. As our members are all present I must join the diners. Your regular commentator takes the mike from hereon. So long, folks, and thanks for listening!"

We return, patient reader, to the present. Was that not an amazing collection of prominent people? But I have yet to say a word about your author. Yours truly has a modest place in the pageant I have cast. My part is as the owner of the "Hot-

Utopia" and a dozen more like it across the continent. To further inflate my ego, I successfully completed and published the novel I had threatened to write for many years.

Now I ask to leave you, with a hope that the vision I've conjured has brought a little smile or at times a chuckle. If you've found it somewhat fantastic please remember that as yet no legislature has been enacted to outlaw dreaming.

George Soonum, B.B.C.

BUGBEE BUSINESS COLLEGE "AT HOME"

Outside there is a light drizzle of rain, but within the walls of Bugbee Building all is indicative of joy and good fellowship. It is Saturday evening, February fifteenth of this year, 1947. The occasion is the annual "At Home" of the Bugbee Business College to which all the students had been looking forward for some time with pleasant anticipation.

The guests begin to arrive at 7.30 p.m. and receive a cordial welcome from the Reception Committee consisting of Mr. and Mrs. McFadyen, Mr. and Mrs. Hinchey, Contarina Bowen, Garth Dean, George Soonum, and Lois Bliss, the Master of Ceremonies, whilst Joe Bonnette passed out the programs.

We enter the spacious hall (for surely we cannot call this transformation a class-room) and notice first that clean pure aroma that can come only from nature's freshly cut balsam saplings. There is a small tree in each corner and wreaths of evergreens along the walls and crowning the centre posts. But look! Our eyes are dazzled by pretty streamers of red, white, and green crepe paper hanging in graceful curves from the ceiling, and attractive window-curtains skilfully fashioned of similar paper in red and white trim. The beautiful varied colored evening dresses make a distinct contribution to the color scheme. We are also greeted with a large crimson heart hung on the west wall emblematical of the hospitality of the hosts, and a reminder of the proximity of St. Valentine's Day. To complete this fascinating picture, on the blackboards are pencilled the one word "Welcome" and some appropriate poems in multi-colored chalk by our master penman, Mr. McFadyen.

Soon the Director of Ceremonies, Miss Bliss call us to attention and we commence what later proves to be an evening of unusual enjoyment.

The first item on the general program was a prom in which we were led by Mr. Amaron and Mrs. McFadyen, with Mrs. Ruby Johnston at the piano. A couple of dances followed, after which we were again called to order for the Platform Program. A word of welcome by Contarina Bowen, one of our charming young maidens, was followed by a piano solo rendered by Rachel Aboud. Other features which showed artistic skill were: a choice vocal rendition of the popular ballad, "When You Wish Upon a Star" by Janie Kirk, accompanied by Gertrude Hodge; two heartily-applauded piano solos by Ian MacMillan, and an amusing impersonation by Mr. McFadyen of "John and Tibby's Dispute" and the "Irish Philosopher".

A few more dances and we are all ready for the delicious refreshments which are served by the Refreshment Committee in a manner that elicited many favorable comments.

Ample provision having been made for the inner man, all join in the 2nd prom of the evening led by Mr. McFadyen and Mrs. Amaron. Then "on with the dance" and we again "trip the light fantastic" until the hour reminds us that all too soon a most enjoyable evening has come to an end. Led by Miss Elsie McFadzen at the piano, we all join heartily in singing the "Alma Mater", following with both National Anthems. As the guests depart they say good-night to the Reception Committee, and express with many kind words and a hearty hand clasp their deep appreciation for the festive evening.

And so another Bugbee "At Home" has passed on, after placing a few more beautiful pictures on Memory's Wall.

Activities

FRESHMAN PROM

The first social event of the year '46 took place on September 21 in the Reception Room. On the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Amaron, Jean Rowe and Ellis Barter. Perk Johnston officiated as master of ceremonies.

The first prom was led by Mr. and Mrs. Amaron after which a short recital was held. Harry Walker played a clarinet solo accompanied by Ian MacMillan at the piano. Beverly McKinnon and Gertrude Hodge played piano solos.

Jean Rowe and Ellis Barter led the second prom which ended at Pierce Hall where the dancing began.

Under the direction of Mr. MacPherson, two skits were presented by some of the old students, which added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening.

Refreshments were served in the dining room, after which dancing was continued until 11:30. The strains of our "Alma Mater" brought to an end another enjoyable Freshman Prom.

FOOTBALL DANCE

On Oct. 12, the football team sponsored their annual Football Dance with Gerry Wilson officiating as master of ceremonies. Dancing started at 7:30 and, with the exception of a brief interlude for refreshments during which a skit was put on by a few members of the team, continued until 11:30. The orchestra made its first appearance of the year and was a great success. The dance ended with the singing of the Alma Mater.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The Hallowe'en Party this year took place on November 2, starting as usual with games in the gym. After the games a dance was held for the Seniors in Pierce Hall with Diz Dean as master of ceremonies. The orchestra played for dancing in their usual inimitable style.

INTERNATIONAL NIGHT

Stanstead College's traditional International Night was held on Nov. 23 in the School Gymnasium. After weeks of preparation, and a mad rush during the last few days, the biggest event of the year opened its doors to the public.

Teachers and pupils, dressed in colorful costumes representing different countries of the world, gathered in the gymnasium. Soon the gymnasium was filled with outside visitors, who were warmly welcomed by all. Gaily decorated booths were placed about the gym, and at these booths, ice-cream, punch, and other refreshments could be bought. There were also fancy work, Christmas gifts, and other knickknacks for sale.

The main attraction of the evening was the programme presented by the College students. The programme opened with the playing of a selection of national anthems by the College Orchestra, under the direction of Miss Heath. This was followed by a skit representing the conclusion of the United Nations' Conference in New York. A group of songs and dances representing different countries of the world was presented by the students.

This delightful programme was followed by a period of dancing, the music being provided by the Stanstead College Jazz Orchestra, under the direction of Ian MacMillan. The vocal solo was rendered by George Brault. After the singing of the "Alma Mater", a most enjoyable evening came to a close.

A. Greer, Grade XI.

XMAS DANCE

The Xmas Dance this year was held on December 14th, at 7:30 p.m.

The College Swing Band played for the first quarter while the dancing got under way. A skit put on by some of the boys, and a few poems read by Don Prangley added to the enjoyment of the evening.

Dancing continued with records till refreshment time when the tuck shop provided the refreshments.

The hall was gaily decorated with a large Xmas tree in the centre of the floor.

The dance ended with the singing of the "Alma Mater."

STANSTEAD COLLEGE DRAMATIC CLUB

One of the newest organizations in the school is the Dramatic Club, which arose from the suggestion of the Students' Council, who sponsored the first meeting. The purpose of the Club is to foster an interest in the field of dramatics and to that end they have sponsored the School's annual dramatic production. The officers of the Club for the year are: Ian MacMillan, President; Gertrude Hodge, Vice-President; Ruth Fraas, Secretary; and Joe Langlois, Treasurer; Mr. MacPherson acted as Faculty Advisor. This year's Dramatic Presentation consisted of two one-act Plays, "Marriage Proposal" by Anton Chekov; "The Happy Journey", by Thornton Wilder, and "Trial by Jury", one of the most carefully written of all the Gilbert and Sullivan light operas. The thanks of the Club are especially due to Miss Kathleen Harper and Mr. Roy Kennedy for their kind action in replacing Mr. MacPherson, whose illness prevented him from completing the direction of the production. To them must be given full credit for their share in the success of the presentation.

A feature of the club's work is to recognize the efforts of both actors and technical workers by the awarding of a small silver "S". The credits for this award are cumulative over a person's school career, and require some effort in each of the departments of acting and production.

TRIAL BY JURY

On March 14th the Stanstead College newly-formed Dramatic Club put on its first programme at the Haskell Opera House. The evening's entertainment began with two one-act plays, "The Happy Journey" and "The Marriage Proposal", both of which were well received by the audience. The main feature of the programme was a Gilbert & Sullivan one-act Opera "Trial By Jury", in which the leading roles were taken by:-

Judge - George Brault; Plaintiff - Phyllis Patterson; Counsel for Plaintiff - Bert Gaudreau; Defendant - Ian MacMillan; Foreman of Jury - Bill Johnston; Usher - Bill Sopp.

The curtain rose on the scene in the court house where Angelina had come to sue Edwin, the defendant, for breach of promise. The usher marshalled the Jury into the Jury-Box and the ladies and barristers to Counsel's benches. After the defendant had pleaded his case, the Judge entered. The sobbs of the Plaintiff failed to win Edwin but by this time the Judge had fallen in love with her himself and the Operetta ended with their wedding.

The girls' and boys' choruses gave excellent support to the soloists.

The cast was as follows:

Bridesmaids — Mr. Bostwick, B. MacKinnon, J. Rowe, G. Streeter.

Jury — J. Blaser, E. Burke, J. Cameron, D. Cargill, D. Cooke, D. Grant, D. Gross, B. Layton, G. McGilton, J. Murray, D. Robb.

Spectators — R. Aboud, L. Bliss, A. Bishop, B. Boyd, M. Carmichael, C. Finch, R. Fraas, G. Hodge, M. Kelly, G. Mowat, F. Poapst, G. Storer, E. Stubbs, E. Wanner, J. Woodard, R. Hackett, A. Brown, J. Kirk.

The music was ably assisted by the Stanstead Orchestra under the direction of Miss Heath.

Miss Hands, Miss Nesbitt, and Mr. MacPherson deserve special credit for their great patience and never-ceasing efforts to produce this performance.

THE ANNEX

Well, here is the end of another year in Stanstead College, and the second year for me, and not only for myself but for half of the boys. There are ten boys in the annex this year, and five are new boys. There are Dick MacLaren of Hampstead, Garry Fetterly of Montreal, Allan MacMillan of Montreal, Elliot Cook of Chambly, and David Wilder of Ottawa. The other five are Michael and John Fuller, Bruce and Keith Thompson, and Frank LaFlèche. There is only one boy whose home is not in Quebec.

In sports the annex boys usually are on the juvenile teams. The sports are hockey, soccer, rugby, basketball, skiing and track. We often play the senior girls for practice, and we play the town teams, too. Most of us are interested in sports.

Every boy in the annex is in Holmes Memorial School this year. There are Michael and Dick in grade five; John and Bruce in grade six; Frank, Keith, and Allan in grade four; David and Garry in grade two; and Elliott in grade three. The honours in high marks this year go to Elliott who got 89.3 per cent the first term. The second term he was unranked because of measles.

The annex has a new matron, Mrs. McGilton, this year. She has been very good to us. We had bread and jam every afternoon after school. Maurice Perkins was her assistant and took us on walks and hikes, and stopped us from getting into mischief after school.

I like it very much this year.

John Fuller, Grade 6A.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL

Front row: Mr. L. C. MacPherson, Gwendolyn Storer, Bill Johnston (Treas.), Gerald Wilson (Pres.), Jean Rowe (Sec.), Harry Walker, Gertrude Hodge.

STUDENT SOCIETY AND COUNCIL

Following a class discussion by the members of Grade 11 (1945-46), a committee was set up to look into the possibility of forming a student government in the school. This committee, after calling a student body meeting, and after considering the matter at length for nearly three months, produced a proposed constitution which now forms the basis of the constitution for the Stanstead College Student Society of which the Student Council is the executive.

The proposed constitution was put before the student body and was accepted by this group late in the 1946 season. With the close of the school fast approaching, the Council for that year decided that it would be useless to organize any projects and so it remained inactive for the rest of the term.

At the opening of the 46-47 year, however, the classes, being fundamental units of division, elected, according to the constitution, representatives to act for them on the Council. Representatives were also sent from other organizations in the school. The representatives as elected are:-

Grade VII	-	-	-	Orvald Nordby
" VIII	-	-	-	David Patrick
" IX	-	-	-	John Murray
" X	-	-	-	Bill Sopp

		Elaine Hunter
" XI	-	Bill Johnston
		Betty Campbell (1st term)
		Fara Poapst (2nd term)
" XII	-	Gerald Wilson
		Doris Soutiere
Bugbee Business College	-	Jean Rowe
		Joe Bonnette
Social Committee	-	George Brault
Magazine Board	-	Gwen McHarg
Athletic Association	-	Gertrude Hodge
Girls' House Committee		Gwen Storer (1st term)
		Phyllis Patterson (2nd term)
Boys' House Committee		Don Kavanagh (1st term)
		Harry Walker (2nd term)

The Council, although only a year old, can look back on a successful year which includes the sponsoring of the Red Cross drive and the Appeal for Greece fund, the setting up of a committee to look into the financial status of school organizations, the incorporating of this committee's suggestions into by-laws, the sending of a representative to the Student Council Conference at Ormstown, Quebec, and the forwarding of useful suggestions for the improvements of the school grounds. On November 11, 1946, the president, on behalf of the student body, laid a wreath on the newly built Memorial Gates in honour of those from this college who paid the supreme sacrifice in either of the two Great Wars.

Believing that student Government gives responsibility to growing youth in "their world of today" and that by accepting this, they gain in confidence and judgment and leadership, we hope that future Councils will continue to maintain the prestige and honour that is theirs.

GIRLS' HOUSE COMMITTEE

The Girls' House Committee which was inaugurated last year has done a great deal for the girls by creating student interest in good school government, by developing student leadership, and by furthering co-operation and goodwill among teachers and students.

Weekly meetings were held on Sunday and were attended by representatives from each grade. The Chairman, a student leader, was changed each term. The first term, Gwen Storer held the office; the second term it was taken by Phyllis Patterson, and the third term by Gertrude Hodge. Miss McFadzen in her capacity of Dean of Girls was the Chief Advisor.

BOYS' HOUSE COMMITTEE

As a result of the discussion of Student Government during last year, a Boys' House Committee was organized in the early weeks of the Fall Term.

The Committee elected in September acted until the end of January when the second term House Committee took office.

The House Committee has concerned itself with matters dealing with the welfare of the boys in residence. In this connection it has assisted in some matters of internal discipline and in the supervision of the games room. A feature of the first term's activities was the Recreation Club which functioned on Saturday nights.

During the year the committee sponsored the showing of two films. The first "Fighting Lady", the story of an air-craft carrier, was provided through the courtesy of Mr. C. S. Layton. The second "Corregidor" was provided from the committee's funds. An amusing feature sponsored by the Committee, was the rummage auction sale, which Bill Layton delivered as an able auctioneer.

The first-term committee had as members:—Gerald Wilson, Head of the House; William Johnston, Sec.-Treas.; Harry Moore, Murray Johnston, Don Kavanagh, John Murray.

In the second term the committee members were:—Gerald Wilson, Head of the House; Harry Walker, Sec.-Treas.; William Johnston, Hugh Cummings, Ian Thomas, John Murray.

Mr. MacPherson, Dean of Boys, acted as Faculty Advisor during both terms.

S. W. C. DANCE ORCHESTRA

Stanstead College Cadet Corps

ACTIVITIES

The Stanstead College Cadet Corps was again re-organized this year. Captain McGilton, the commanding officer of the Corps, was ably assisted by Lieut. MacPherson, Lieut. Abbott, and Instructor Joe Langlois.

The Corps this year was the largest it has been since its re-organization in 1941, having approximately one hundred members. The Corps has three platoons, a band, and a Headquarters Staff.

During the first part of the year an N.C.O. class was held under the direction of Captain McGilton. The boys who came out to the class entered whole-heartedly into their training.

At the first of the year Ellis Barter retained his rank of Company Sergeant Major. He was then promoted to Cadet Captain, taking over as Company Commander, and Hugh Cummings took his place as C.S.M. Herky Hodge became Platoon Commander of No. 1 Platoon, Bob Pennington took over command of No. 2 Platoon, and Bill Johnston command of No. 3 Platoon. Staff-Sergeant resumed his duties as commander of the band.

The Platoon Sergeants were: Bruce Johnston, No. 1; Don Cooke, No. 2; and Bill Sopp, No. 3. The Company markers were: Cpls. Blaser, Amaron, May and L/Cpl. Murry for the band.

As in previous years, the parades were held outside on the back campus. When winter came the Company parades were held in the gymnasium. During these winter months individual platoon drill was given along with lectures on the Bren machine gun and the Swift Training Rifle. Captain McGilton also gave lectures on map reading.

When spring came the parades were once more held outdoors, where company drill was held. During these remaining few weeks the boys entered whole-heartedly into their pre-training for the Annual Cadet Inspection.

The band was re-organized again this year under the command of Staff-Sergeant Wilson. Not only did they live up to their full requirements in music but also in proficiency. On many route marches the band gave full support to the Cadets and put added zest into their marching.

Boxing played another major part in the Cadet activities this year. The boxing was held under the supervision of Lieut. Abbott, Boys' Athletic Director.

The Cadet Corps was again successful in winning the Strathcona Trust Physical Training Cup for the third time in succession.

The Signalling Squad was successful in winning the Strathcona Trust Signalling Cup for M.D. No. 4. We offer our congratulations to Lieut.

MacPherson, Instructor, and to Cpls. Bishop, Newhall, L/Cpl. Murry, Cds. Cameron, Jupe, and Thomas for successfully winning the Trophy.

The Corps had a very successful year, every member did his best to uphold its name.

CADET BALL

The Cadet Ball, sponsored by Captain McGilton, Lieutenants MacPherson and Abbott, and the Cadet Corps, took place on January 5th in the Gymnasium.

Mr. and Mrs. Amaron, Lieut. and Mrs. Abbott, Cadet Captain Barter and his partner, Jean Rowe, formed the reception line.

The dancing commenced at 8 o'clock and with a short break for refreshments continued until 11:30.

Music furnished by Beaulieu's orchestra helped to make this the best dance of the year.

REMEMBRANCE DAY, Nov. 10, 1946

REMEMBRANCE DAY PARADE

The parade was formed up on the College Campus at 2:15 Sunday, November 10, 1946. After all the Units had taken their places they paraded to the Haskell Opera House, where the Memorial Service was to be held. At the head of the parade was the colour party. It was followed by the Canadian and American Legions, the 74th Battery, Rock Island, a detachment from the Royal Canadian Air Force Depot in Montreal, the Stanstead College Cadet Corps, and Girl Guides.

After the Service was over, the parade marched back to the College for the Dedication of the Memorial Gates.

The Service was opened by the Rev. E. C. Amaron. Mr. F. B. Wilson, President of the Stanstead College Alumni, presented the gates to Dr. C. W. Colby, Chairman of the Board of Trustees. Mr. John T. Hackett, Member of Parliament for the constituency of Stanstead, also spoke.

After the Ceremony wreaths were placed on the gate, Staff Sgt. Wilson placing the wreath on behalf of the Student body. Dr. Kilpatrick pronounced the formal Dedication, and, following a hymn, Rev. F. W. Mitchell gave the Benediction.

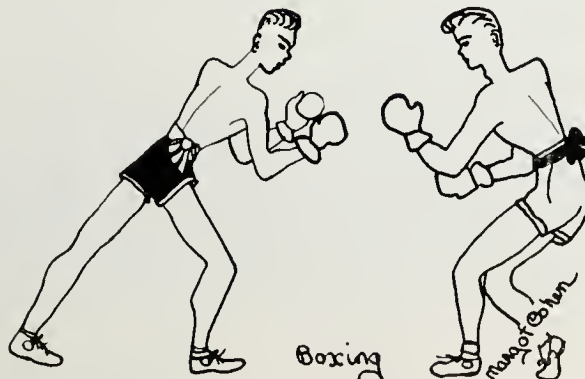

THE INSPECTION

The annual inspection of the Stanstead College Cadet Corps took place on the College campus at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of May 22.

The Inspection was carried out by Lieut. Hobbs of M.D. 4. With him on the reviewing stand were the Cadet Instructors, Capt. L. G. McGilton, Lieut. MacPherson, Lieut. Abbott, and Principal E. C. Amaron.

The parade was formed up on the College campus where the Inspection began with the general salute. Then Lieut. Hobbs inspected the company. The march past came next, followed by individual platoon drill. Sgt. Major Cummings took over the company for physical training. A gym demonstration, consisting of tumbling and pyramids, was put on under the supervision of Lieut. Abbott.

At the end of the demonstration period Lieut. Hobbs spoke to the Cadets, congratulating them on their fine performance and pointing out to them the value derived from Cadet Corps. After the address Lieut. Hobbs presented medals to Sgt. Major Cummings and Lieut. Pennington for general proficiency. Three cheers were given by the Cadets to Lieut. Hobbs and thus the afternoon inspection was brought to a close.

Eastern Townships Conservatory

THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

This year, as in previous years, there have been many and varied activities in the Eastern Townships Conservatory of Music; and with the excellent guidance and co-operation of the conservatory's staff, the students have spent a successful year in the studies of their instruments. This year vocal lessons were given in addition to organ, piano, reed, brass, and stringed instruments.

This year as before, the staff has had a great deal to do but, in spite of the difficulties entailed in instructing a large student body, they have produced some very gratifying results.

Miss Nesbitt has had her hands more than full for, in addition to her lessons in piano and organ, and her splendid work as pianist of the E.T.C.M. Symphony Orchestra, she has also filled the position of head of the conservatory to the great benefit and pleasure of those who worked with her.

Mrs. Fulcher was the registrar of the conservatory again this year and has certainly done her bit in helping to maintain the friendly discipline of the conservatory, and has greatly added to the success of the year.

Miss Heath was, for the fall and winter term, again director of the Symphony Orchestra and, with her very able guidance, the orchestra has had two very successful and entertaining terms. Because of a very unfortunate illness, Miss Heath was unable to complete the year, and to the sorrow of her violin and piano students, as well as to that of the orchestra, was forced to end her teaching for this year some weeks before the close of the winter term. Despite the fact that she had a very large number of students to teach, Miss Heath gave each one her full assistance and has produced some excellent results.

Miss Hands worked with us this year as vocal and piano teacher. Under her guidance, the Girls' chorus flourished as never before, and under her friendly direction the students this year put on the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "Trial by Jury." This was produced in the Opera House, and the applause of the audience showed that they more than appreciated her excellent direction.

Miss McFadzen has also done an excellent job this year. She, too, had a large number of pupils, but despite this, she gave each one individual attention that was gratefully received. This year again, she conducted theory classes and, judging by the number of pupils she has had, her teaching is much appreciated and very beneficial to all her music students.

Mrs. Martin worked with us this year as piano teacher, and has produced some really remarkable results. Despite her limited time for each pupil, she has greatly benefited her students.

Mr. Havard and Mr. Woodward have this year jointly taught wind instruments. Despite the brevity of their time with each pupil, their efforts have certainly not been wasted, as can be readily seen in the rapid advancement and progress of each student.

Mr. Boux came to work with us after Easter to replace Miss Heath. He has done an excellent job of taking over Miss Heath's pupils, and the change from one excellent teacher to another does not seem to have had any adverse effect on the students.

THE RECITALS Kenneth Mills

For one of the Pierce Hall Programs held this year, we were very fortunate to have as our artist Kenneth Mills from Toronto.

Mr. Mills visited Stanstead College once last year as a guest of Miss Nesbitt.

During his short stay, he entertained us on more than one occasion with an informal recital.

His all-too-brief visit left the students with very pleasant memories, and it was a very great pleasure to have him with us again this year.

Mr. Mills' well-balanced programme including works of Liszt, Bach, Chopin, and many other old and modern composers, appealed to the varied tastes of the audience.

His stay was much appreciated, and it is with real pleasure that we look forward to Mr. Mills' next visit.

Mary Munn

Again this year we were visited by Miss Mary Munn, who excelled herself in providing us with an evening of entertainment.

This was not the first time that we have been afforded the pleasure of her playing and, with the word of her marvellous playing and interpretation preceding her visit, Miss Munn entertained a very large and very enthusiastic audience. We regretted to see Miss Munn leave us, and we are looking forward to the time when again we shall have the privilege and pleasure of hearing her play.

THE E.T.C.M. STAFF RECITAL

This year we had an unusual and very enjoyable Pierce Hall Program when the E.T.C.M. Staff gave a recital.

Miss Hands accompanied by Mrs. Martin gave us several vocal numbers which were much appreciated by the entire audience. She sang well-known songs, among which "Ouvre Ton Coeur" was one of the best loved. Miss Hands did a truly excellent job and her hearers unanimously acclaimed her singing.

Miss Nesbitt and Mrs. Martin added much to the enjoyment of the evening with their performance of two piano duos. Their rendition of the "Danse Macabre" was well received and will undoubtedly be mentioned in the same breath as the Teacher's recital for a long time to come.

Miss MacFadzen added an original touch to the entertainment when she played two of her own compositions from her "Suite for Piano". The applause was deafening and showed well the audience's appreciation of her performance.

The evening was most entertaining and enjoyable, and we are all looking forward to the next E.T.C.M. Teachers' recital.

THE E.T.C.M. SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The E.T.C.M. Symphony orchestra has again this year been a great success and a source of good entertainment.

Under the able direction of Miss Muriel Heath, it performed at several Sunday Vesper Services and, more notably, at the playing of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial by Jury." At the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the members were well entertained by the E.T.C.M. orchestra.

Since Miss Heath's absence, the direction of the orchestra has been taken over by Mr. Boux.

We are in high hopes that their performance this June will be just as good as, if not better than, before.

The members of this season's orchestra were: Mr. Fregeau, Mrs. Bégin, Mr. Stanton, D. Bégin, Dorothy Bégin, D. Steele, A. Scott, E. MacFadzen, Mr. Sergeant, Mr. Channel, R. Amaron, Mr. E. Amaron, Miss Nesbitt.

E.T.C.M. STUDENT WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Dolores Bégin who played a piano solo (Warsaw Concerto by Adinsell) in the recital given by music students chosen to represent their respective High Schools at the Vermont State Musical Festival at Burlington on May 9, won a first-class scholarship of one hundred dollars.

Dolores represented Derby Academy at the festival. She studies music in the Eastern Town-ship's Conservatory of Music where she is a piano pupil of Miss MacFadzen and has been studying violin with Miss Heath. She and her mother, Mme Bégin, play violin in the Stanstead College Symphony Orchestra. Her sister, Dorothy, plays cello.

THE STANSTEAD COLLEGE BACCALAUREATE CHOIR

This year, as before, the Stanstead College Baccalaureate Choir will render several numbers including Schubert's "Omnipotence." The soloist will be the E.T.C.M. vocal teacher, Miss Gwen Hands.

The members of the choir are:

Mrs. Johnson	Mrs. H. Cass
Mr. D. Cargill	Mrs. H. Searles
Mr. McLean	Mrs. W. Poapst
Mr. H. Bell	Mrs. F. Johnston
Mr. J. Lees	Mrs. N. Pierce

AN APPRECIATION

The resident girls of the college have learned with regret that they are to lose their Dean, Miss E. McFadzen, who will next year devote her time entirely to the conservatory. During the many years (14 or more) that she has been Dean, Miss McFadzen has, by her efficient and understanding supervision of the girls, made their lives at the college secure and happy. Although it is not often that one person may directly influence the lives of many others, Miss McFadzen has done so by the interest she has displayed in each girl with whom she has come in contact. Those who are remaining in the college, and we who are leaving, appreciate deeply all she has done for us. We shall miss her as a Dean, but we are happy in knowing that, as our friend, she is not severing her connection with Stanstead College.

Holmes Memorial School

Another enjoyable year has passed in Holmes Memorial School. As I look back, I find many happy memories. This year we have had enrolled one hundred and eighty-eight pupils. Unfortunately we have suffered from the flu and measles; but there have not been many storms to delay the vans. The van students have enjoyed the hot soup which has been supplied by the Women's Institute of North Stanstead. The I.O.D.E. supplied the town students with milk. We would like to thank these societies for their kindness this winter.

We have had several people come to speak to us during the session. We had a pleasant visit from Mrs. Shaw, Supervisor of Junior Red Cross. She talked to us about keeping clean and healthy. She had her little friend "Coco" with her. "Coco" is a very interesting little monkey, especially for grades one and two. Miss Grant came to visit us also. Laurie Tilton introduced her to us. She talked to us about the work of the brain, and proved to us that it is not wise to smoke or drink.

Dr. Allan, missionary from China, visited grade four, and told them about the Chinese school, and homes, and methods of travel, and other interesting aspects of life in China. Miss Jean Stewart also told this grade many interesting things about the Chinese, their language and their writing. Mrs. Boucher was kind enough to talk to us about our health, giving us a witty and interesting talk.

Grades one and two had Christmas and Easter parties. They have been working for the Red Cross. By a Charity Drive at Hallowe'en they collected money for the Red Cross.

Grade two went to the Haskell Library to get acquainted with the new Children's Room. Mrs. Carroll helped them to understand how to use the library of Children's books.

Grade three has worked to win certificates for having taken good care of their teeth. Grade four has made several science charts.

All the girls of Grade six have been occupied in making things for the Red Cross. We have made stuffed animals, baby clothes, sweaters, and baby suits. The school sold six hundred calendars for the Junior Red Cross. Three hundred and forty Red Cross magazines were sold in grade six, and sales were held in different grades as well.

We have library periods about once a week. Several of the students of grade six have won their penmanship certificates. All the classes were open to parents during Education Week.

We would like to take this opportunity of thanking Mrs. Wharram, and the other members of the staff, for their kindness and help throughout the year.

Edna Nordby, Grade VI.

MUSIC

Quite a number of students in the Model School have been taking music lessons. About forty are taking private lessons. Of these, three are learning to play the violin and two the clarinet. A few are studying class lessons.

Miss Hands' classes in singing are very pleasant, and the boys and girls enjoy them.

We have had several recitals which were attended by parents. In these recitals there were piano and violin solos and some group singing. We are now getting ready for our June recital. Altogether, we have had an interesting year in music.

Eileen Middleton, Age 13 Grade 6B.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Grade six is the grade in the Model School which takes Domestic Science. We have it every Monday from 1:15 P.M. to 2:00 P.M. Miss Wood is our teacher. We learn how to cook and sew. We have made stuffed animals, needle cases, and book covers. We enjoy Domestic Science very much, and would like to thank Miss Wood for helping this year.

BOYS' SPORTS

This year was an interesting one in sports for the Model School. We have had midget hockey, and one or two of the boys were on the Junior hockey team. In the spring we had Track and Field. With grades seven and eight we won sixty points in the Inter-Class Track Meet. In the fall Mr. MacPherson taught soccer, and we also had one or two boys in football. We have had gym classes twice a week. We also had basketball and were coached by Mr. Amaron. We all look forward to another year in sports with the same teachers.

Bruce Thompson Grade 6A.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Another enjoyable year has passed in Stanstead College in sports. Miss Weatherup has been our new gym teacher this year and has helped us very much in sports.

Twice every week we had a gymnasium period. In the summer we have our exercises outside, but in the winter we have them in our gym. We are divided into teams to play games. There is a great deal of excitement in playing. Our periods are sometimes taken up by dancing which all the girls like.

We have two of the Model School girls on the Junior Teams in hockey and soccer.

June Setlakwe.

MANUAL TRAINING

We had a very successful year in Manual Training. Mr. Abbott taught us, but during his illness Mr. McGilton took over. Mr. Abbott taught us how to use some tools such as the square and the rip saw. We learned to square boards. At first it was hard, but after we practised, it got easier. Under his direction we made a box, a knife rack, and we have just started on a cribbage board. We are glad that we are going to have Manual Training again next year.

MY PUSSY CAT

I have a little pussy cat
And her name is Fluff,
She has a lovely coat
In the prettiest shade of buff.

When you hold her in your arms
She is as soft as silk.
She has the very nicest fur
Because she drinks her milk.

OUR PUPPY

We've got a dog at our house,
Whose name is Rex,
He looks like any other dog
But I think he's the best.
Early in the morning
When I'm fast asleep,
Into my room
He will quickly creep,
Barking out loud
And pouncing on my bed,
Chasing sleep
From my drowsy head,
Helping me up
For another day.

ODE TO GRADE V

Two B's, Two C's, Two D's, & Two F's,
All sorts and sizes including myself,
The Goodsells & Gordons, Holdens & Hills,
Are Jolly Good Students in spite of ink spills.
There's Kearsey and Lees, Pierce and Pappy,
Who keep the class noisy, but undoubtedly happy.

We now come to Martin, Maclaren, and Moore,
The first win for attendance, the others are sure
They will pass on to sixths and there join Poaps
And Bonnie Wee Jeanny
Our pride and our hope.

LIMERICK— by Class V

There's a Grade in the Model Called V
That reminds J. D. of a hive,
He came up to our door,
Found the Class on the floor,
And exclaimed "Well! My sakes alive".

THE KING OF THE JUNGLE

The king of the Jungle is very strong.
And 'tis of him I sing my song;
He bounds thro' the Jungle with grace and ease
And even the elephant from him flees.

All hunters fear him unless they are armed,
And even then, sometimes, they are alarmed,
But even in his most benevolent mood
Leo's always hungry and always rude.

WINTER

Winter, winter go away,
Come again in a year and a day.
Let the little flowers bloom,
For the winter will come soon.

Winter, winter go away,
For little Fay wants to play.
Let him take his little cart,
And then come back and get a tart.

Betty Ann Colt, Grade IV.

There was a young boy named Pete
Who always liked something to eat.
When asked what he had,
He replied it was bad,
But all he could find was some meat.

THE BLUE BIRD

Although the Blue Birds are common, many people do not know their history. They are with us all the summer, but in the fall they fly to the south. The male comes to us first, and the female soon after. Together they find a deep cosy bird-house. The female lays from four to six bluish-white eggs, and the birds take turns sitting on them until they hatch. At first they are just little bodies with grey fuzz, but in about three weeks the feathers start coming out, and they are like their father and mother. The second eggs the mother lays are treated in the same way until they hatch. The father is not kept so busy now, because the first helps to bring food. In September they fly to the south again. We are very sorry, for they are some of the nicest birds we have.

John Moore, Grade V.

SPRING, 1947

We had a very strange spring this year. When April came we had some quite warm weather for a few days. Then we had cold weather for weeks and weeks. We also had much rain. In May when the May flowers are supposed to be coming out we had some more snow. What an unusual spring!

I guess Mister Robin got a big surprise when he came this spring. The weather was cold and the ground was frozen, and so he could not get his usual worms. We hope and hope each day to wake up in sunshine and to hear birds singing, but we are still hoping.

Kathleen Middleton, Grade 6A.

PUSSY WILLOWS

Pussy Willows are like kittens,
But they do not cry,
But still I like the kittens,
Do you know why?

Pussy Willows come in March,
Most other flowers come in May,
The little kittens play and scratch
Till Mistress June drives them away.

Joan Peasley, Grade IV.

ONE DAY IN MAY

One day in May
I went away
To pick some yellow flowers.
It was Mother's Day,
And I felt gay,
So I strolled around for hours.

Kermit Brown, Grade III.

GO WINTER, COME SPRING

Winter, winter go away,
Let Miss Spring come and stay.
Take your freezing snowdrops too,
Change them all to sparkling dew.

Mistress Spring fear not, I beg you,
Bring the heat and warmth, please do,
Bring the rain that fights the snow,
Make the icy winter go.

Robert Amaron, Grade IV.

NONSENSE

On one winter's night when the sky was clear,
Something I heard in my little ear,
Tin cans and jelly and fabrics too,
These were the words that came from my shoe.
On one summer's night when the ground was bare,
I heard something, I thought it a bear,
Tin cans and jelly and fabrics too,
These were the words that came from my shoe.

Owen Wheelock, Grade IV.

AT CAMP

The first time I went to camp
The flowers were buds,
The grass was damp,
The water was cold,
The sky was grey,
The leaves were green,
Nothing was gay at all.
But a few days later
The trees were nicer,
The grass seemed greener,
The flowers looked whiter,
The sky was bluer,
And dismal days grew fewer and fewer.

Julie Davis, Grade IV.

THE CONDOR

The Condor lives in the Andes of South America. It is the largest flying bird in the world. Their bill is elongated and straight at the base. The Condor often attacks and destroys deer. When pinched by hunger a pair of these birds will attack a bullock, and peck at the bullock until it falls to the ground. They have never attacked a man. The Condor has its nest in the ledge of the rock, on the sides of mountains. It lays two white eggs, from three to four inches long, which are hatched in about seven weeks. The development of the young birds is very slow. They cannot fly until they are one year old.

John Fuller, Grade 6A.

CAMPING

I love to go a-camping
 It is so much fun;
 I like to go a-swimming
 When schooldays are done.
 I love to go a-camping
 In the middle of the year;
 I like to go a-wading
 Because I have no fear.

Joan Peasley, Grade IV.

SNOW IN SPRING

Snow is white,
 Snow is clean,
 But the last of April,
 It shouldn't be seen.
 Snow is welcome,
 In the Fall,
 But in late Spring
 Not at all!

Donald Dyson, Grade IV.

SPRING

Spring is here,
 The clouds are resting,
 The buds are out,
 The birds are nesting.
 The flowers are out,
 The trees are green,
 The water does romp,
 In the little stream.

Ian Mitchell, Grade IV.

SPRING

I am disappointed because this year Spring is so late in coming. It is to me the most pleasant season of the year. But the snow is going away. The buds, grass, and flowers are beginning to come to life. The sun is getting warmer and warmer every day. We shall soon be able to plant our garden, and to persuade our crops to grow. So perhaps our late spring will give us happy times after all.

The basketball season started before the Christmas holidays this year and ran through until the last of March. The interest was very high at practices and so from the entire group of girls three teams were formed: Senior, Senior B, and Junior.

The Seniors played five games in all, losing two, tying two, and winning one. They travelled to Lennoxville, Derby, Vt., and Quebec. The girls enjoyed these trips very much.

The Senior B team played games with Lennoxville and Newport. The Junior team played against Derby.

GIRLS' HOCKEY

The girls' hockey team was organized late this year. Because of this and weather conditions the girls did not have many games. Return games were played with Beebe, each team winning on its home ice. The girls who participated wish to take the opportunity to thank Mrs. Amaron for her time and interest shown in the hockey this year. The names of the players are:

 Back row: D. Kavanagh, D. Grant, W. Johnston, D. Cooke, J. Langlois, L. Hanna.

S.W.C. vs Sherbrooke

Their first game was a 41-0 win over Sherbrooke to win the Intercollegiate Football Trophy. "Perk" Johnston scored four of the team's touchdowns while Harry Moore also played off on a 98-yard quarter-back sneak. The other touchdowns were by "Herky" Hodge who picked up a Sherbrooke fumble, and by Bill MacIntosh. Douglas Robb kicked several placements.

Old Boys vs S.W.C.

They lost 24-0 to a faster, heavier, and more experienced Old Boys' team. Again "Perk" Johnston kept his team together with the line holding well on some terrific line plays. However the fast running and passing of Abbott, Poapst, Pope, and Jenkins, was too much for the Collegians.

S.W.C. vs Town of Mount Royal

The third game of the year was a well-earned victory over a much-vaunted Town of Mount Royal team 41-16. Here again Murray Johnston was the star. He bucked, passed, kicked, and ran to score most of the Red-and-White's points. The Mount Royal boys opened up the game with a fast touchdown; a few minutes later Stanstead followed suit. Then the visitors scored again but after that the home team swamped their foes. At one time the ball was advanced from the S.W.C.

15-yard line to a touchdown in four plays by Cummings, MacIntosh, Johnston, and Moore. There was much passing and running, and the Stanstead line of B. Johnson, D. Kavanagh, B. Sopp, D. Grant, and Barter, with Wilson and Hodge, did exceptionnally well in breaking up the visitors' plays. This was the best game seen at home this year.

Town of Mount Royal vs S.W.C.

The return game with Town of Mount Royal was played in Montreal during the long weekend and again resulted in a S.W.C. victory. Captain "Perk" Johnston put in a great performance on a muddy field to score all of the College's 10 points and made a great long-to-be-remembered exodus from Stanstead football. MacIntosh, Moore, and Walker all played a good game, and Cummings was going great guns in his own home town. The game ended 10-0.

Mr. Abbott is to be greatly complimented on the great job which he did in turning a group of boys who at the beginning of the year showed little promise into a fast and powerful rugby machine. Those who looked at the recruits in September and said "Too Young" or "Too light" did not reckon with Mr. Abbott's coaching genius and organizing ability.

Junior Football

Seated (left to right): V. Darac, I. Thomas, D. Bishop, J. Murray, P. Newhall (Captain), R. Amaron, R. McCaffery, J. Blaser, I. Hogan.
 Standing: R. Radley, R. Ladouceur, R. Baldwin, P. Foulkes, B. Jupe, J. Cameron, G. McGilton, Mr. Amaron (Coach).

The junior team was not as strong as in previous years but lacked nothing in spirit. They won one game and lost two during the season. Mr. Amaron was kind enough to give up his free afternoons to coach the juniors, thus relieving Mr. Abbott and allowing him to devote his time to the seniors. Mr. Amaron did a great job of organizing the juniors and is to be congratulated accordingly.

S.W.C. vs Sherbrooke

The first game was played against Sherbrooke juniors on the home ground and resulted in a 12-6 loss for the college boys. They played a more experienced team than themselves and, although they put up a good fight, were turned back. Sherbrooke scored on the first play on a pass from center field. The college boys came right back, and Murray went over from the three yard-line to tie the score. Sherbrooke scored again on a fumble behind Stanstead's goal line and converted. The college boys fought hard but could not score again.

Sherbrooke vs S.W.C.

The return game was a different story. On a muddy field the Sherbrooke players were turned back to the tune of 16-2. Thomas opened the scoring on a pass from Newhall, and later Newhall himself scored on a long left end run. Sherbrooke fought back hard with two rouges, but as a result,

Stanstead worked up the field to score, with MacIntosh going across from the right. Sopp and Robb both played well. Captain Newhall did the passing and punting with Robb and Amaron place-kicking. Blaser, Bishop, and McCaffery made good gains while Thomas, Baldwin, Viner, and Foulkes tackled well on the line.

Lennoxville vs S.W.C.

The last game of the season resulted in the boys' worst defeat. The Lennoxville juniors invaded Stanstead and won 2-1. The age limits were raised for the game thus making several senior players eligible to play, but these were used sparingly because of their game the same afternoon with Town of Mount Royal. Once more the first play was disastrous when Lennoxville ran the kickoff for a touch down. Long passes resulted in two more, and a third was made when their burly half-back went over from the fifteen. The college's only point came when Robb's try for goal went wide and Baldwin rouged the L.H.S. receiver. Again the game was featured by passing, and Thomas and Bruce Johnson did some good tackling.

Although the boys didn't win much this year it was not through lack of trying. Many an afternoon quarter-back John Murray had his back-field out for extra signal practice, and we are proud of the spirit which most of the boys showed.

Midget Soccer

Seated (left to right): J. Fuller, A. Papadakis, T. Theodore, D. Chaddock (Captain), B. Fluhmann, L. Tilton, J. Goodsell.
 Standing: R. McLaren, G. Newman, L. Ladouceur, B. Thompson, O. Nordby, D. Patrick, S. Smith, G. Hunter, Mr. MacPherson (Coach), W. Kerr.

Ski Team

 Front: R. Cournoyer.

BOYS' SOCCER

The boys' soccer team played two hard-fought games with Bishop's Prep School. There was little material at the beginning of the year since most of last year's players had moved on. However, Mr. MacPherson did a good job in coaching his team. The team was sparked by "Teddy" Theodore who made many brilliant rushes into his opponents' territory and gave Bishop's goaler a hot time. However the fast-passing Bishop's line and their hard kicking backs held the Stanstead boys in check and won them the games 5-0 and 7-0.

Among the Stanstead stars were Papadakas, Fluhmann, and Chaddock. There were also several practice games with the girls, and although the boys usually won these skirmishes, they provided much needed practice and experience for both teams.

NORTH HATLEY SKI MEET

Once again a ski team representing S.W.C. journeyed to North Hatley to compete in the meet held there on February 8. Robert Cournoyer won the J. P Wells Trophy for the Junior Aggregate. Kenneth MacLeod won second place in Junior Downhill and Dennis Kezar very nearly succeeded in winning the Senior Aggregate Trophy.

Mr. MacPherson was the Faculty Advisor again this year and accompanied the team.

The following boys were on the ski team: Seniors—Don Cooke, William Johnston, Hugh Cummings, Bill Sopp, Ian MacMillan, Dennis Kezar.

Juniors—Orvald Nordby, Sunderland Stewart, Bill Wright, Kenneth MacLeod, Robert Cournoyer.

INTER CLASS SKI MEET

The Inter-Class Ski Meet this year was limited to only across-country events, as it was impossible because of weather conditions to hold the meet on the scheduled day. The downhill and Slalom were eliminated.

The following are the results of the boys' cross-country race, which was a distance of about two miles:

SENIOR BOYS—

1. Hugh Cummings; 2. Dennis Kezar; 3. Ian MacMillan.

INTERMEDIATE BOYS—

1. Bill Sopp; 2. Doug Bishop; 3. Larry Edgley.

JUNIOR BOYS—

1. Sunderland Stewart; 2. Kenneth MacLeod; 3. Bill Wright.

MIDGET BOYS (Different Course)—

1. Orvald Nordby; 2. Brian Fluhmann; 3. Wilkie Kerr.

SENIOR BASKETBALL

Although this year's senior basketball team was beaten often it was never severely trounced. It put up a good fight in every game in spite of the fact that the records show only two wins against six losses.

The college's first appearance was an exhibition game against Lennoxville played on the college floor. Our team, made up for the most part of juniors, went down to a 38-24 defeat at the hands of a more experienced and faster Lennoxville team.

The annual Quebec trip broke up the local schedule, but the boys gained a certain amount of valuable experience. The combined junior and senior teams succumbed to a powerful Thetford organization by the score of 39-27. Again our boys held the advantage in the first half but were unable to hold the lead.

The following day the juniors engaged the Sherbrooke quintet in a closely contested game. The college lost a heartbreaking decision by the count of 32-27. "Art" Letovsky was the college mainstay until he suffered a sprained wrist in the third quarter.

At approximately the same time the senior team were being handed the worst defeat of the season on the large Quebec floor. Billy Sopp managed to stave off a worse defeat by sinking a number of long shots. Stanstead was handicapped by the loss of "Huff" Johnston who was unable to return to the floor after receiving a bad cut over the eye.

The college was entered in a league consisting of Derby Academy, Border All-Stars, the local 74th Battery, and Stanstead College. In the first league game against the All-Stars, the college team, starting out at a fast pace, walked off the floor at half time holding a substantial lead. During the second half, however, the opponents put on the pressure and managed to eke out a 45-39 win. Billy Sopp and Doug. Robb were the outstanding performers on the Stanstead team.

Senior Basketball

Front row: J. Murray, D. Robb, B. Sopp, I. Thomas, D. Gross, A. Letovsky.

The second league game was played against the 74th Battery. Our boys showed a great deal of improvement over the two previous games. Holding a slight lead at half-time and a good margin in play, the College team went on to win their first game by the score of 44-36. Again Robb and Sopp starred, assisted by Newhall and MacCaffery, while Johnston and Cummings played an effective game at guard.

After a considerable lapse of time the college boys created a three-way tie for first place in the Border league in trimming a highly favored Derby Team by the score of 33-21. This was our best game of the season. A fine school spirit, coupled with the will to win, triumphed over a confident and hitherto undefeated Derby squad.

The success was short lived, however, as we suffered a 39-30 setback by the All-Stars. The college team fought hard all the way, but were unable to overcome the older and more experienced players of the All-Star team.

This was the final game for our senior team. Much credit may be attributed to Mr. Amaron who coached a few young, and for the most part, inexperienced players, into quite a formidable team.

Also playing on the team were. Roy Amaron, David Gross, John Murray, Ian Thomas, Paul Aboud and Bob Pennington.

Midget Basketball

Back row: Mr. Amaron (Coach), F. LaFleche, O. Nordby, L. Ladouceur, C. Viner, G. Hogan, C. Papadakis.

MIDGET BASKETBALL

For the first time in many years there was a midget basketball team. This team was entered in a town league and played two games, winning both. The best game was played against Derby Line when the college came from behind to win in the last quarter, 14-12. Teddy Theodore was perhaps the best player on the team although Charles Viner and Orvald Nordby scored a good percentage of the points. Also playing were: John Fuller, "Sonny" Stewart, Brian Fluhmann, "Pappy" Papadakas, Frank Laflèche, Dicky MacLaren, David Patrick, Jerry Hogan, Lionel Ladouceur. Mr. Amaron coached the team on Saturday afternoons.

Schedule: S. W. C. vs. Derby Line 14-12
S. W. C. vs. Rock Island 14-7

SENIOR HOCKEY

The senior hockey team had a successful season this year. Of a schedule of ten games it won four and lost six. During the first part of its campaign the team lost three straight games, mainly because of lack of experience and practice. It came back, however, to win the next three and place second in the Border Hockey League. The boys went on to win the first game of the play-offs 6-5 in overtime after one of the best games of the season. However, in the finals they were beaten in two games by the 74th Battery who won the cup.

Starring for the Stanstead team were "Herky" Hodge, who came close to capping the high scoring honours for the league, Bob Chaddock, whose stick handling and skating were superb; Captain Ellis Barter; Denis Kezar; and Joe Jenkins; while "Handsome" Harry Walker did a good job in nets. Also on the team were: Bill Layton, By Lusk, Bill Johnston, Bob Pennington, "Slim" Hamilton, "Diz" Dean, and Harry Moore.

The climax of the season was a trip to Quebec and although we lost, our boys played a fine game. Bruce Johnston and Bill Sopp also played in this game.

Following is the schedule:

SEASON

S. W. C.	vs	Beebe	1-3
"	"	74th	1-3
"	"	Stanstead	9-4
"	"	Beebe	3-1

JUNIOR HOCKEY

The junior team had a good season, winning two, tying one, and losing two games. Because of unfavourable weather conditions, the team could not play a full schedule. However, it had its share of excitement. The best game was played at Beebe, when Richard Labaree sparked the team to a 6-3 victory. Also starring for Stanstead were Bill Sopp, Captain Doug Robb, Bert Gaudreau, and "Huff" Johnston, with Johnny Murray ably keeping out the rubber. In the play-offs, a hard-fought game between the College and Beebe was lost in overtime 3-2, but this game was annulled because of an infraction on the part of Beebe. When the game was replayed, it was called in the second period with the score tied 1-1 because of bad ice. The following thaw put an end to hockey, and therefore the play-offs could not be finished. Besides those already mentioned, Robert Cournoyer, Bill MacIntosh, Robert MacCaffery, Roy Amaron, Teddy Theodore, Arthur Letovsky, and David MacIntyre played for the College. Following are the results:

PLAY-OFF

----------	----	-------	-----

Mr. Abbott is to be much congratulated on the excellent coaching which he gave all three hockey teams and for the way he turned a group of boys, for the most part unpromising, into three teams which each took second place in their respective leagues, and were noted for their sportsmanship. Mr. Abbott himself played part time for the seniors, but a knee injury received while playing football prevented his taking a more active part in the team's games. However, his great enthusiasm and his sound advice helped greatly to bring his team victoriously through so many hard fought games.

PREP HOCKEY

The Juvenile or "Prep" hockey team had the best season of all the college teams, losing only two games all winter. It is difficult to choose stars from this team although perhaps Brian Fluhmann and Dale Chaddock stood out as forwards, while Victor Darac, and Ken MacLeod played well on defense. Charlie Viner proved a good goaler and also played well as a forward. The other hockey players were: Orvald Nordby, Geoffrey Newman, "Pappy" Papadakis, Frank La Flèche, Jerry Hogan, Lionel Ladouceur, David Patrick, Billy Wright, "Sonny" Stewart, Lester Baldwin, John Fuller, and Larry Tilton.

In the final play off game the "preps" were shorthanded, because of sickness, and played a somewhat faster team. Although the college boys put up a good fight they bowed to Sacred Heart 6-3. In this game Douglas Bishop and Dick Baldwin bolstered up the weakened line-up and played good games.

LUNCHEON COMMITTEE

Mrs. P. M. Poaps	Mrs. L. Hill
Mrs. Lee Jenkins	Mrs. Drew
Mrs. Ruth Lamb	Mrs. M. Moore
Mrs. E. Burns	Mrs. R. Johnston
Mrs. F. C. Miller	Mrs. F. Wilkinson

The annual Reunion was held at the college on Saturday, May 17, 1947. Mrs. Amaron, Mrs. F. B. Wilson, Mrs. McGilton, Mrs. F. C. Miller, and Mrs. Frieda Bindman were on the receiving committee which welcomed guests in hall and reception room. Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. S. F. Abbott were in charge of registration at the entrance to the dining room where a very attractive and appetizing buffet supper was served by the ladies of the banquet committee including Mrs. Johnston, Miss Wood, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Moore. After supper many went out on the campus to enjoy a Stanstead sunset and the fresh air before entering Pierce Hall for the meeting which opened at 8 p.m. with Mr. F. B. Wilson of Montreal, President of the Alumni, presiding, Mrs. N. W. Hardy acted as secretary and read the minutes of the 1946 meeting. Mr. F. C.

Miller, Treasurer, gave the financial report stating that there is a small balance on hand. Mr. McGilton gave a special financial report on the Memorial Gates which cost approximately $3,000 of which amount about $200 is still to be procured.

Mr. Wilson in his report as president first drew attention to a large Stanstead College pennant and new radio-gramophone which the Alumni Association presented to the college. He referred to the Memorial Gates as the major activity of the year. The library fund received considerable discussion. This fund was established by the alumni in the days when the John Colby Memorial Library was being opened and equipped in the old building. The fund at the present time comprises about $1,300. It was voted to present this fund to the college with the provision that it be used for the John Colby Library. Mr. Wilson then called on Principal Amaron to address the meeting.

Mr. Amaron opened his remarks by giving reports on Alumni meetings held at Montreal, Quebec, Ottawa and Toronto.

In Montreal the meeting took the form of a dinner dance in Willingdon Hall organized by Mr. Frank Wilson. In Quebec a musical evening was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Amaron. At Ottawa Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Struthers entertained the members from the Ottawa district. At Toronto a dinner meeting was held under the presidency of Mr. Frank Flemington.

Mr. Amaron reported the success of the Tudor Hall Concert given by the staff of E.T.C.M. on May 3, when over 200 were present including a large number of alumni. He also told of the tea which was given at Ogilvy's dining room after the recital, when twenty-five were guests of one of the members of the Alumni Association.

Mr. Amaron expressed regret that of the 1,300 names listed as alumni only 277 had actually taken out membership cards. He suggested that with a little organization the association might raise this number to 500 in the near future.

Mr. Amaron reported the generous donation to the college of $20,000 by Miss Isabel McLennan of Montreal for the encouragement of the study of French in the school and announced that a series of prizes from grade 6 to Bugbee have already been arranged.

After thanking Mr. Amaron for his report, Mr. Wilson introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. J. M. C. Duckworth of the Y.M.C.A., N.D.G. Montreal. Mr. Duckworth was introduced in humorous vein and continued to enliven the meeting with a series of jokes and anecdotes leading to his serious subject: "The Confusion of the Present Time" particularly as this confusion pertains to youth. Mr. Duckworth summarized a survey which he had made recently in connection with youth and religion and used this report as a basis of his remarks on youth's confusion regarding religion, racial animosities, education, discipline, sex, drinking, war, and political corruption. Mr. Duckworth feels that we live in an era of fear. He believes the solution to be the recognition of God as the spiritual centre of the universe and the adjustment of our personal lives to that fact.

Representative students expressing thanks to Mr. Dora Keene of Sherbrooke to William Stewart Midan, Grade 11; Eleanor Rick, Grade 12; Joe Bonnette, Bugbee.

At the close of the meeting Sam Abbott acted as master of ceremonies for the recreational part of the evening. Music for the first few dances was provided by records played on the new radio-gramophone followed by the College Dance Orchestra under the leadership of Ian MacMillan. "Happy Journey" a play by Thornton Wilder produced by Mr. MacPherson and starring Miss Wood, Mr. Kennedy, Elsie Streep, Gertrude Hodge, and Geoffrey Newman made its second hit of the season. The interspersing of a few local names in the text served to heighten the suspense. Jerry Wilson acted the unusual role of the stage manager on the stage. After another period of dancing the singing of the Alma Mater brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

Including the members of the graduating classes about 180 were present.

POSTLUDE

Dear Friends:

The honour of collecting Alumni Notes for this year's magazine came to me late in March. Miss Mary Flint, B.A. (McGill) who so ardently and so faithfully served in this capacity for many years resigned last year. She has been most kind in helping to gather newspaper clippings and other items for this year. I have greatly appreciated the work which she has done and the material which Mr. and Mrs. Amaron and others have contributed. Because so many have contributed I hesitate to mention names but I should like to thank Miss Edna Beerworth and Mrs. Beerworth who procured a copy of the Sherbrooke Record long after its issue.

To all contributors I say sincerely "Thank you!"

Without doubt this is the last opportunity I shall have of speaking to you as Dean of Girls. Some of us have lived through difficult times. If any word of mine has served to check, guide or comfort you I am glad that it has been so and I shall feel that prayers have not been in vain. Punishments I have always hated most as much as the misdeeds which demanded them. This part of the work has been irksome and disheartening but kindly words and deeds, happy faces and the love and sympathy which many have shown will never be forgotten as long as I live. To the teachers who have shared the arduous hours of charge duty and have helped with words of counsel and good cheer I can only say inadequately, that I thank you. To my successor in this work I extend my best wishes.

I shall hope to see old students as they revisit Stanstead next year as I shall probably be teaching in the Conservatory of Music.

"Au revoir",

E. McF.

THIS takes practice

Practice makes perfect... in sport
... and in money management too.

Good practice in money management is to spend less than you earn,
and bank whatever you can...
regularly, till it becomes a habit.
